The Supreme Council of the Republic of Latvia has adopted a Law

On Specially Protected Nature Territories

Chapter I General Provisions

Section 1. Purpose of this Law

The purpose of this Law is:

- 1) to lay down the basic principles for a system of specially protected nature territories:
- 2) to lay down the procedures for the establishment of specially protected nature territories and secure their existence;
- 3) to lay down the procedures for the administration of specially protected nature territories, for control of the condition of such territories, and for their registration; and
- 4) to combine State, international, regional and private interests in regard to the establishment, preservation, maintenance and protection of specially protected nature territories.

Section 2. Subject-matter of this Law

- (1) The subject-matter of this Law are specially protected nature territories (hereinafter protected territories).
- (2) Protected territories are geographically specified areas that, in accordance with a decision of competent State authorities and administrative bodies, are under the special protection of the State and are established, protected and managed for the purpose of:
- protection and preservation of natural diversity (rare and typical natural ecosystems; living environment of protected species; original, beautiful landscapes characteristic of Latvia; geological and geomorphological formations, etc.);
  - ensuring supervision of scientific research and the environment; and

- preservation of territories significant for the recreation, education and instruction of society.
- (3) Protected territories shall be categorised as follows: strict nature reserves, national parks, biosphere reserves, nature parks, nature monuments, nature reserves, protected sea territories and protected landscape areas.

Chapter X International Co-operation in the Establishment and Preservation of Protected Territories

Section 41. International Agreements, and Agreements Regarding Protected Territories

If an international agreement that is in force in the territory of the Republic of Latvia lays down the requirements regarding protection of the protected territories other than those laid down in the laws of the Republic of Latvia, the requirements of the international agreement shall be in force, except in cases where stricter protection regulations are laid down in laws and regulations of the Republic of Latvia.

[30 October 1997]

Section 42. Protected Territories in the Republic of Latvia as Part of the International Network of Protected Nature Territories

- (1) Protected territories established in the Republic of Latvia, in accordance with the determined procedures, may be included in lists of protected nature territories of international significance.
- (2) In developing a system of protected territories in the Republic of Latvia, the recommendations of international conventions and international nature protection organisations shall be observed.

Section 43. Protected Nature Territories of European Significance

(1) The protected nature territories of European significance (Natura 2000) is a unified network of protected nature territories of European significance. It includes specially protected nature territories, which are significant for the European Union and substantially facilitate retaining or renewal of the protection status favourable for the types of specially protected biotopes or specially protected species in the relevant biogeographical region or regions, or which may substantially promote the unity of the network Natura 2000, as well as substantially promote the conservation of biological diversity in the biogeographical region or regions. The necessary protection measures shall be taken in such territories in order to preserve or renew protection status favourable for those biotopes and populations of species, which have caused the establishment of the relevant territory. The protection of species with wide distribution area shall be ensured within those territories of Natura 2000, which have physical and biological factors important for existence and reproduction of specimens of the referred to species.

- (2) The Cabinet shall determine criteria (hereinafter criteria) for the establishment of protected nature territories of European significance (Natura 2000) in Latvia. The list of protected territories of European significance (Natura 2000) in which all the protected territories and micro-reserves conforming to the criteria have been included shall be determined by the Annex to this Law. The Nature Conservation Agency shall prepare the necessary information for the society and for the European Commission regarding the protected territories of European significance (Natura 2000) in Latvia.
- (3) The Ministry of Environmental Protection and Regional Development shall develop proposals for the establishment of new protected territories conforming to the criteria, for a change of category of a protected territory or for changing the borders in cases where the protected nature territories of European significance (Natura 2000) are not provided with a sufficient protection regime.
- (4) For an intended activity or planning document (except protected territory nature protection plans and the activities provided for therein, which are necessary for the management or renewal of habitats of specially protected species, habitats of specially protected species of restricted use or specially protected biotopes, as well as the arrangement of public access nature tourism and reference infrastructure objects provided for in nature protection plans of the protected territories), which separately or together with other intended activities or planning document may substantially affect a protected nature territory of European significance (Natura 2000) an environmental impact assessment shall be performed.
- (5) The intended activities shall be permitted to be performed or a planning document to be implemented if such activities do not negatively affect the ecological functions and integrity of the protected nature territory of European significance (Natura 2000) and do not contradict the goals of establishing and protection of such territory.
- (6) If the implementation of the intended activities or planning document negatively affect the protected nature territory of European significance (Natura 2000), the performance of the activities shall be permitted or the document implemented only in cases where such activities are the only solution and are necessary to satisfy overriding public interests, also social or economic interests.
- (7) If in the protected nature territory of European significance (Natura 2000) can be found European Union priority species or biotopes found in Latvia laid down in laws and regulations subsidiary to the Special and Biotope Protection Law, the intended activities shall be permitted to be performed or a planning document to be implemented only in such cases where such activities are the only solution and are necessary for the health protection, security or environmental protection interests of the society.
- (8) In the case provided for in Paragraph seven of this Section, the intended activities shall be permitted to be performed or a planning document to be implemented also when it is necessary to satisfy other especially overriding public interests if an opinion has been received from the European Commission.
- (9) In the cases determined in Paragraphs six, seven and eight of this Law compensatory measures for the network of protected nature territories of European significance (Natura 2000) shall be determined.
- (10) If upon proposal of the responsible sectoral minister the Cabinet has adopted an order that the planned activity is necessary for the fulfilment of overriding public interests, the conditions of Paragraphs four, five, six or seven, eight and nine of this Section shall be applied to the activities laid down in the laws and regulations governing the protection and use of protected territories.

Section 44. Compensatory Measures for the Network of Protected Nature Territories of European Significance (Natura 2000)

- (1) Compensatory measures for the network of protected nature territories of European significance (Natura 2000) (hereinafter compensatory measures) shall be performed in order to ensure the balancing of the negative impact of the performance of the intended activities or the implementation of the planning document and the protection and preservation of the unity (integrity) of the territory.
- (2) Criteria on the basis of which compensatory measures shall be determined, the application procedures and the requirements for the development and implementation of a long-term monitoring plan shall be determined by the Cabinet.
- (3) The selection and implementation of compensatory measures, as well as the costs of the development and implementation of a long-term monitoring plan for such measures shall be covered by the proposer of the intended activities or the developer of the planning document.
- (4) An Environment State Bureau report regarding the application of compensatory measures shall be sent to the European Commission. The requirements for the content of the report and the procedures for sending the report shall be determined by the Cabinet. [15 September 2005]

Transitional Provisions

- 1. By 1 January 2003, the Cabinet shall determine criteria for the establishment of protected nature territories of European significance (Natura 2000) in Latvia.
- 2. [20 November 2003]
- 3. By 31 March 2004, the Cabinet shall develop and submit to the Saeima a draft law regarding the right of land owners to compensation for restrictions on economic activities in protected territories.

[20 November 2003]

4. By 1 February 2006, the Cabinet shall issue the regulations referred to in Section 18, Paragraph three of this Law.

[15 September 2005]

[15 September 2005]

- 6. In years 2011 and 2012 no new protected territories shall be established, in which restrictions to forestry activity are determined, except in cases when the protected territory must be established in accordance with the regulatory enactments of the European Union. [16 December 2010]
- 7. [29 November 2012]

8. The Cabinet shall issue the regulations referred to in Section 31, Paragraph two of this Law until 1 February 2014.

[19 December 2013]

Informative Reference to European Union Directives

In this Law are included legal norms arising from:

- 1) Council Directive 92/43/EEC of 21 May 1992 on the conservation of natural habitats and of wild fauna and flora;
- 2) Directive 2009/147/EEC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 November 2009 on the conservation of wild birds; and
- 3) Directive 2008/56/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 17 June 2008 establishing a framework for community action in the field of marine environmental policy (Marine Strategy Framework Directive) (Text with EEA relevance). [15 September 2005; 18 June 2009; 28 April 2011]
