EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations make provision for the conservation of Salmo salar (commonly known as salmon) and Salmo trutta (commonly known as sea trout) in the River Annan salmon fishery district. The Regulations cease to have effect at 23:59 hours on 24th February 2017 (regulation 1(c)). A map illustrating the extent of the district is appended to this Note for information purposes only.

Regulation 2(1) prohibits the retention of salmon caught by rod and line with the effect that any salmon caught by such means will require to be immediately released to the river or water from which it came. Regulation 3(1) prohibits the use of organic bait to fish for salmon and sea trout for the purposes of the definition of “rod and line” in section 4 of the Salmon and Freshwater Fisheries (Consolidation) (Scotland) Act 2003 (“the 2003 Act”). The effect of this is to prohibit the use of worms, prawns and shrimps as baits when fishing by rod and line for salmon and sea trout.

Regulation 4 prohibits fishing for salmon and sea trout with a hook, other than with a single set of hooks without barbs. The prohibitions in regulations 2(1), 3(1) and 4 have effect during the period 25th February to 31st May in each year in which these Regulations have effect (regulation 5).

In terms of section 38(7) of the 2003 Act, it is an offence to contravene the prohibition in regulation 2(1), 3(1) and 4 of these Regulations. Anyone guilty of the offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine of up to level 4 on the standard scale (£2,500 as at the date these Regulations come into force).
