Part 3

CLAIMS FOR ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

Procedure for making a claim for additional compensation

9. A claim for additional compensation must—
- (a) be made to the acquiring authority;
 - (b) be made in writing;
 - (c) set out the title of the original compulsory purchase order;
 - (d) provide a statement of the extent, description and situation of the land interest comprised in the original compulsory purchase order in respect of which the claimant or, where applicable, the claimant’s predecessor in title was entitled to compensation (“the claimant’s land”), including a postal address with postcode or Ordnance Survey National grid reference point;
 - (e) set out the original amount⁽¹⁶⁾ that was awarded or agreed to be paid to the claimant or, where applicable, to the claimant’s predecessor in title;
 - (f) set out details of the compensation claimed, distinguishing the amounts of additional compensation⁽¹⁷⁾, qualifying losses⁽¹⁸⁾, costs and interest under separate heads and showing how the amount claimed under each is calculated, with supporting evidence;
 - (g) set out the basis on which the claimant is eligible for additional compensation.

Additional procedure relating to mortgaged land

10.—(1) Where the conditions in paragraph (3) apply the claim for additional compensation must also include—

- (a) the name and address of the mortgagee,
- (b) where the claimant is the mortgagee, a statement to this effect,

⁽¹⁶⁾ See paragraph 2(3) of Schedule 2A to the Act for the meaning of “original amount”.

⁽¹⁷⁾ See paragraph 2(2) of Schedule 2A to the Act for the calculation of the amount of additional compensation.

⁽¹⁸⁾ See paragraph 6(2) of Schedule 2A to the Act and regulation 13 of these Regulations for the meaning of “qualifying losses”.

- (c) the mortgagee's reference or roll number, and
 - (d) a statement of the approximate amount of the mortgage debt remaining to be paid to the mortgagee as at the date the claim is sent to the acquiring authority.
- (2) If there is more than one mortgage, the requirements in paragraph (1) must be set out separately for each mortgage to the extent that they apply.
- (3) The conditions referred to in paragraph (1) are that—
- (a) the claimant's land was subject to a mortgage directly before it was acquired by the acquiring authority through the original compulsory purchase order, and
 - (b) any amount of the mortgage debt remains to be paid as at the date the claim is sent to the acquiring authority ("the unpaid amount").

Procedure on receipt of a claim

11.—(1) On receipt of a valid claim for additional compensation the acquiring authority must determine whether it has enough information to assess the amount of additional compensation payable to the claimant including any amounts for qualifying losses, interest and costs, and must write to notify the claimant that it has received the claim and either—

- (a) that it requires no further information, or
- (b) of the further information it requires.

(2) The acquiring authority must notify the claimant where it considers a claim to be invalid together with its reasons.

(3) A valid claim for additional compensation is one that complies with the requirements of regulation 9 and, where applicable, regulation 10.

(4) If the claimant and acquiring authority cannot agree the amount of additional compensation due to be paid following receipt of a valid claim, the acquiring authority must inform the claimant that questions of disputed compensation may be referred for determination by the Upper Tribunal⁽¹⁹⁾.

(5) The additional compensation due must be paid to the claimant unless the conditions described in regulation 10\(3\) apply in which case—

- (a) where the unpaid amount is the same as or less than the additional compensation due, an amount equal to the unpaid amount is to be paid to the mortgagee, or
- (b) where the unpaid amount exceeds the additional compensation due, the additional compensation due is to be paid to the mortgagee.

(6) Where there is more than one mortgage, payment is to be made in order of priority of those mortgage debts.

Qualifying losses

12.—(1) A claim for additional compensation may include an amount in respect of qualifying losses provided that—

- (a) those losses were reasonably foreseeable at the time the original compulsory purchase order was confirmed,
- (b) the claimant has taken all reasonable steps to mitigate those losses, applying the same rule concerning the duty of a person to mitigate loss as applies to damages recoverable under the common law of England and Wales, and
- (c) those losses do not include sums claimed by the claimant under other heads of claim so as to amount to double recovery by the claimant, such as in respect of costs or interest.

⁽¹⁹⁾ See section 1 of the Act.

(2) Where the original amount⁽²⁰⁾ included a sum in respect of compensation under section 5(6) of the Act for disturbance or any other matter not directly based on the value of land, that sum is to be deducted from the additional compensation payable if it would not have been paid had the original compensation amount been assessed without the application of section 14A of the Act.

Costs

13.—(1) A claim for additional compensation may include compensation in respect of the claimant’s expenses reasonably incurred in—

- (a) making an application for a direction for additional compensation under paragraph 1(2) of Schedule 2A to the Act, provided that such a direction was made, and
- (b) making a claim for additional compensation under paragraph 1(5) of Schedule 2A to the Act, other than any expenses incurred in connection with an application under section 17 or appeal under section 18 of the Act.

(2) Section 4 of the Act⁽²¹⁾ applies to claims for additional compensation as if—

- (a) in paragraph (1)—
 - (i) in sub-paragraph (a), for “unconditional offer in writing of any sum as compensation” there were substituted “offer of a sum for additional compensation on receipt of a valid claim for additional compensation”;
 - (ii) sub-paragraph (b) were omitted;
 - (iii) in the words after sub-paragraph (b), the words “or, as the case may be, after the time when in the opinion of the Upper Tribunal the notice should have been delivered” were omitted;
- (b) paragraph (2) were omitted;
- (c) in paragraph (3)—
 - (i) the words from “has delivered a notice” to “this section and” were omitted;
 - (ii) for “made an unconditional offer in writing to accept any sum as compensation” there were substituted “sent a valid claim for additional compensation setting out a sum for additional compensation”.

Interest

14.—(1) An additional compensation claim may include a sum in respect of accrued interest on any payment under paragraph 2(2) of Schedule 2A to the Act but not on any amounts in respect of qualifying losses or costs.

(2) Accrued interest is to be calculated in respect of the period beginning with the date on which the original amount was paid to the claimant or the claimant’s predecessor in title and ending with the date the additional compensation claim is paid, at an annual rate of 0.5 percentage points below the Bank of England base rate.

(3) Where the original amount was paid in more than one installment the date of payment for the purposes of paragraph (2) is to be taken to be the date of the last payment.

⁽²⁰⁾ See paragraphs 2(3), 4(2) and (3) and 6(2) and (3) of Schedule 2A to the Act for the meaning of the “original amount”.

⁽²¹⁾ Section 4(1) and (3) was amended by S.I. 2009/1307.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations set out the procedure for applications for directions for additional compensation and claims for additional compensation under sub-paragraphs 1(2) and (5) respectively of Schedule 2A to the Land Compensation Act 1961 (c. 33) (“the Act”). They make provision about steps that must be taken for the purposes of publicising or giving notice of a direction for additional compensation; for interest to be applied to amounts of additional compensation that are payable; and about how or when additional compensation (and any interest) is to be paid. They also make provision for additional compensation to include costs and, where applicable, an additional amount to make good qualifying losses and set limits on what such losses may include.

Part 2 sets out the procedure for applications for directions for additional compensation. A direction for additional compensation is a direction that must be made by a confirming authority (the Secretary of State) in certain circumstances and as provided for by paragraph 1 of Schedule 2A to the Act where land has been compulsorily acquired and the relevant compulsory purchase order (“CPO”) included a direction under section 14A of the Act (cases where prospects of planning permission are to be ignored). The circumstances are where the acquiring authority has not used the land materially in accordance with the statement of its intention that it provided on confirmation of the CPO, where either 10 years from the CPO’s confirmation has expired or there is no longer any realistic prospect of the statement being fulfilled, and where the initial direction under section 14A would not have been confirmed if the statement of intentions had reflected what has in fact been done with the land since its acquisition.

Regulation 3 and the Schedule provide for what applications for a direction for additional compensation should contain.

Regulation 4 provides for steps as to notification that the confirming authority must take when it considers an application for a direction for additional compensation it has received is invalid.

Regulation 5 provides for steps as to notification that the confirming authority must take when it receives a valid application for a direction for additional compensation. Regulation 5(3) provides that a party which is notified about an application may make written representations about the application’s validity and whether the conditions for making a direction for additional compensation have been met. It also sets out the time periods after which written representations may be disregarded by the confirming authority.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

Regulation 6 provides for the applicant to make further representations in response to written representations and sets out time periods after which the confirming authority may disregard any written representations and when it must send written representations to the applicant.

Regulation 7 provides for the people that the confirming authority must notify about its decision and what the notification must contain.

Regulation 8 sets out steps that the acquiring authority must take to publicise that the confirming authority has made a direction for additional compensation.

Part 3 provides for claims for additional compensation. Where a direction for additional compensation is made, any person who was eligible for compensation in respect of the original compulsory acquisition may apply for additional compensation if the amount of the compensation they originally received (“the original amount”) would have been greater if the section 14A direction had not been made. Paragraph 2 of Schedule 2A to the Act provides that the amount of additional compensation payable is the difference between the amount that would have been assessed as due in compensation had no section 14A direction been made and the original amount.

Regulation 9 sets out the procedure for making a claim for additional compensation.

Regulation 10 provides for additional procedure where the land in question was subject to a mortgage and part of the mortgage debt remains unpaid.

Regulation 11 sets out the procedure that the acquiring authority must follow on receipt of a claim for additional compensation.

Regulation 12 provides for additional compensation to include an amount payable for “qualifying losses”. “Qualifying losses” are defined in paragraph 6 of Schedule 2A to the Act as financial losses shown to have been suffered by an eligible person as a result of the compensation initially payable to the eligible person in respect of the acquisition being of the original amount rather than the alternative amount it would have been without a section 14A direction. This regulation sets limitations on qualifying losses.

Regulation 13(1) provides that certain costs may be included in a claim for additional compensation. Regulation 13(2) applies section 4 of the Act (costs) with modifications so that valid claims for additional compensation are to be treated for costs purposes like unconditional offers to accept any sum in compensation. The effect is that there may be costs consequences for claimants where the Upper Tribunal (Lands Chamber) awards any sum in respect of a dispute under section 1 of the Act that is no greater than any amount offered by the acquiring authority as additional compensation and for the acquiring authority where the Upper Tribunal (Lands Chamber) awards any sum that is greater than the amount set out in a valid claim for additional compensation.

Regulation 14 sets out the applicable rate of interest to be included in additional compensation claims and how it is to be calculated.

A full impact assessment has not been produced for this instrument as no, or no significant, impact on the private, voluntary or public sector is foreseen.
