10. Section 34 of the principal Act is amended in subsection (1) by deleting paragraph (b) and substituting the following:

“(b) in the case of an application classified in the Fourth Schedule as a complex application, other than an application for which an environmental impact assessment has been submitted, within a period of 10 weeks, from the date of submission of the application;”.

Repeal and replacement of section 44 of Act 2019-5

11. Section 44 of the principal Act is deleted and the following is substituted:

“Building permit

44.(1) A person shall not carry out any building operations unless

- (a) a building permit in respect of the building works is in force; and
- (b) the building works are being carried out in accordance with the building permit.

(2) Where planning permission has been granted for the carrying out of building operations, the applicant shall submit to the Board detailed building plans, together with

- (a) the form specified by the Board;

- (b) any documents, designs, calculations and like materials related thereto; and
 - (c) proof of payment of the prescribed building permit fee.
- (3) Detailed building plans submitted pursuant to subsection (1) shall be drawn to the scale specified by the Board and shall include, but not be limited to
 - (a) floor plans;
 - (b) elevations and sections;
 - (c) foundation details;
 - (d) structural details, including roof design details;
 - (e) electrical layout;
 - (f) mechanical, air-conditioning and ventilation layout; and
 - (g) plumbing layout.
- (4) Except for simple building applications, all building plans submitted to the Board shall be
 - (a) prepared and submitted by a competent registered professional;
 - (b) stamped with the name and address of the registered professional; and
 - (c) signed by that registered professional.
- (5) All documents, designs, calculations and like material submitted pursuant to subsection (2) for a building permit shall be stamped with the name and address of the competent registered professional responsible for preparing the material and signed by that registered professional.

(6) The building plans and specifications submitted to the Board shall be accompanied by a design certificate in the form set out in the Seventh Schedule.

(7) In this section, “simple building application” means an application to construct

- (a) a dwelling house or duplex dwelling of not more than two storeys, the gross floor area of which does not exceed 232.5 square metres;
- (b) a building of not more than two storeys in height containing more than two dwelling units, the gross floor area of which does not exceed 465 square metres; or
- (c) a commercial building of not more than two storeys in height, the gross floor area of which does not exceed 465 square metres.

(8) In accordance with the provisions of the Engineers (Registration) Act, Cap. 368B, a certificate signed by a competent registered engineer is required with respect to the structural, mechanical and electrical aspects of any building

- (a) consisting of or designed for more than two storeys;
- (b) constructed or used for the purposes of carrying on a business; or
- (c) being a place to which the public have or may have access.”.

Insertion of new sections 44A to 44I into Act 2019-5

12. The principal Act is amended by inserting the following new sections immediately after section 44:

“Issuance of building permits

44A.(1) On the submission of building plans and all the documents, designs, calculations and like material required in support of a submission for a building permit, the Board shall issue a building permit, except where

- (a) the building plans are not in accordance with the terms and conditions subject to which planning permission was granted for the building operations under Part IV;
- (b) when the building operations constitute permitted development under a Development Order, the building plans are not in accordance with the conditions subject to which such development is permitted by the Order;
- (c) the building plans contravene the Building Code or building regulations or any other written law; or
- (d) any fees due are unpaid.

(2) Where the building plans, specifications and other documents submitted are signed and stamped by a competent registered professional pursuant to section 44(4) and (5), the Board shall issue, no later than 7 calendar days after the date of submission, a building permit showing that it is issued in reliance on the design certificate of the registered professional, without prejudice to its right to cause any such building plans, specifications and other documents to be reviewed thereafter and to revoke the building permit pursuant to section 44F(1) (a).

(3) Where the building plans, specifications and other documents submitted to the Board are not signed and stamped by a registered professional, the Director shall cause the building plans, specifications and other documents submitted to be reviewed, and the Board shall issue or refuse to issue a building permit within 28 working days after receiving the submission.

(4) Where the Board refuses to issue a building permit, the notice of refusal shall give reasons for the refusal.

(5) The Crown is exempt from any liability in negligence arising from the grant of planning permission for building operations and issuance of a building permit, whether or not the plans submitted in application for planning permission or a building permit were prepared by a competent registered professional or any other person.

Building Inspections

44B.(1) The holder of a building permit shall give to the Director notice in writing of the date on which building works will commence, at least 14 days prior to the commencement of building operations.

(2) During the carrying out of such works, the following building inspections shall be conducted

- (a) setting out;
- (b) footings and slabs before concreting;
- (c) structural frame and roof;
- (d) ring beams, casting and reinforcement;
- (e) plumbing and drains;
- (f) electrical work (in association with the electrical inspector);
- (g) all mechanical installations;
- (h) such other inspections as the Board may reasonably require;
and
- (i) final inspection for an occupancy certificate.

(3) Building works at an inspection stage shall not be covered up prior to being inspected and further building works shall not proceed unless the works completed up to that stage have been inspected and approved.

(4) Subject to subsection (5), all such inspections shall be conducted by an independent consultant engaged by the holder of the building permit to conduct such inspections.

(5) Notwithstanding subsection (4), where a building permit is issued in relation to a simple building application, the required building inspections maybe carried out by a building officer from the Department, at the request of the holder of the building permit, on payment of the prescribed fee for such inspections.

(6) Where inspections are to be carried out by a building officer, the builder may cover up uninspected building works where an inspection is not carried out by a building officer within a period of 4 complete working days after notice in writing has been given to the Director that the uncovered building work will be ready for inspection in 3 working days.

(7) Where the holder of a building permit appoints an independent consultant to conduct the required inspections, notice of such appointment shall be included in the notice of intention to commence works given to the Director pursuant to subsection (1).

(8) Where building inspections are conducted by an independent consultant, the cost of the services of independent consultant engaged by the holder of the building permit shall be borne by the holder of the building permit, and the holder of the building permit shall submit reports on the building inspections to the Board in a format to be determined by the Director.

(9) Where, at any stage in the course of a building inspection, the independent consultant or building officer identifies defects in the works being inspected, the defects shall be pointed out immediately to the person charged with carrying out the building works and notice in writing of the defects shall be given to holder of the building permit within 24 hours thereafter.

(10) Where, in the opinion of the Director, based on the inspection reports, the building works do not comply with the Building Code or the approved plans and specifications, the Board may by notice in writing direct the person charged with carrying out the building works to take such steps as are necessary to bring the building works into compliance, within the time specified in the notice.

(11) Where the person charged with carrying out the building works refuses or fails to take such steps as are necessary to bring the building works into compliance within the time specified in the notice, the Board may revoke the building permit pursuant to section 44F(1).

(12) In this section “independent consultant” means a registered professional other than the registered professional who certified the plans and specifications submitted to the Board and who is not an employee of the holder of the building permit.

Variations in building works

44C.(1) Where any material alteration or modification to the design of a building occurs in course of carrying out building works, revised plans showing the variations from the original plans, including the addition, omission or substitution of any works, shall be submitted to the Board as soon as may be practicable after the variation has occurred.

(2) The Board may amend the building permit to authorise any variations to the original plans and the retention of the building as built before the date of submission of the revised plans.

(3) Where variations have occurred, no occupancy certificate shall be issued for the building pursuant to section 44E until after the revised plans have been submitted and the building permit has been amended.

(4) Where revised plans are duly submitted to the Board, the Director shall issue the amended building permit within 28 calendar days from the date of submission of the revised plans.

(5) The provisions of this section do not apply to the retention of building works carried out without the grant of planning permission, for which an application to regularise unauthorised development shall be made pursuant to section 31.

Clarification of technical requirements

44D.(1) Where any question arises as to whether technical requirements of the Building Code or any regulations are satisfied, a registered professional shall consult with the Board and the views of the Director shall be considered in all circumstances.

(2) Where there is a dispute, between the Director and a registered professional, with respect to the technical requirements of the Building Code or any regulations, or as to whether there has been substantial compliance with such requirements, any party to dispute may apply to the Tribunal for a determination of the matter.

(3) The Tribunal may determine any dispute brought under subsection (2) on the basis of written submissions alone, but shall provide an opportunity for the parties to make oral representations on a request in writing by either party.

(4) The Tribunal may appoint an independent expert to advise it on analysing the submissions made by the parties to any dispute, orally or in writing, and in determining the question.

Occupancy Certificates

44E.(1) No person shall

(a) occupy

(i) a new or renovated building; or

- (ii) a new extension to a building; or
- (b) permit any such new, renovated or extended building, to be occupied until an occupancy certificate has been issued with respect to the building.

(2) The Board shall within 7 days issue an occupancy certificate upon the completion of any building works in substantial compliance with the terms of a building permit, and upon payment of the prescribed fee.

(3) An application for an occupancy certificate shall be made to the Board in such form as is specified by the Board, accompanied by proof of payment of the prescribed fee, and shall be submitted to the Director by the owner of the building or by an agent for the owner, after the completion of the building works.

(4) The Board shall not grant an occupancy certificate unless the application is accompanied by a final inspection certificate duly signed by an independent consultant or a building officer stating that the building work to which it relates has been carried out in accordance with the building permit, this Act and the building regulations, and is fit for occupation.

(5) An owner of a building or an agent for the owner may apply for a temporary certificate of occupancy for part of a building which may be safely occupied prior to completion of the rest of the building.

(6) A temporary certificate of occupancy shall be granted subject to such terms and conditions as the Director sees fit and remain valid for such period from the date of issue as is specified therein.

(7) In subsection (2), “substantial compliance” means a level of compliance in which any deficiencies in the building works pose no threat to the safety, health and welfare of persons within or in the vicinity of the building greater than the potential for causing minimal harm.

Enforcement of building control

44F.(1) The Board may by notice in writing revoke a building permit where

- (a) after a building permit is issued in reliance of the design certificate of a registered professional, the building plans are found to contravene the Building Code or building regulations;
 - (b) the permit was issued based upon the submission of materially false or misleading information;
 - (c) the building works authorized by the building permit have not, in the opinion of the Director, substantially commenced before the lapse of the planning permission; or
 - (d) the building works are being carried out in breach of the building permit.
- (2) The Board shall not revoke a building permit under subsection (1) on the grounds of any such default unless the Board has
- (a) by notice served on the holder of the permit, given not less than 14 days notice of its intention to revoke the permit on the grounds specified therein;
 - (b) in the notice referred to in paragraph (a) specified a reasonable date before which the holder of the permit may submit any written representations to the Board; and
 - (c) taken into account
 - (i) any action taken by the holder of the permit to remedy such default, if it can be remedied, and to prevent the reoccurrence of similar defaults; and

(ii) any representations submitted to the Board pursuant to paragraph (b).

(3) Where any building or other structure is commenced or completed without a building permit, or after a building permit has been revoked, the Board may serve the owner of the premises or the builder, or both of them, with a notice in writing specifying the contravention and requiring the person served, on or before a day specified in the notice, to show cause why such building or structure should not be removed, altered or demolished.

(4) Where an owner or builder upon whom a notice has been served pursuant to subsection (3) fails to show sufficient cause why the building or other structure should not be removed, altered or demolished, the Board may cause such building or structure to be removed, altered or pulled down.

(5) Notice in writing of the Board's decision with respect to the removal, alteration or demolition of the building or structure, shall be given to the owner of the premises at least 28 days before any such action is undertaken.

(6) All expenses incurred by the Board in removing, altering or pulling down a building or structure under this section shall be a civil debt due to the Crown, recoverable in a court of competent jurisdiction, and a charge upon the premises.

(7) A person who is aggrieved by a notice served upon them under subsection (1) or subsection (5) may appeal to the Tribunal within 14 days of the date of service of a notice.

(8) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any enforcement proceedings for a breach of planning control being taken against any person under Part VIII of this Act, provided that no one shall be punished twice for the same offence.

Engineering Operations

44G. The provisions of this Part with respect to

- (a) the submission of detailed plans and supporting documents;
- (b) the issuance of building permits before works are commenced;
- (c) the inspection works at appropriate stages of construction;
- (d) the certification of completion of works;
- (e) the submission of revised plans showing any variations; and
- (f) the enforcement of building control, apply mutatis mutandis to the carrying out of engineering operations.

Building Regulations

44H.(1) The Minister may make regulations providing for a Building Code

- (a) consisting of engineering, design and public health standards applicable to the construction of buildings as appear to be desirable for the structural and fire safety of buildings; and
- (b) for the safety, health and general welfare of persons within or in the vicinity of buildings.

(2) Regulations made under this section may adopt, by reference with necessary changes, any code, standard, or practice set by an appropriate institution, association or other body.

(3) Except as provided for in subsection (4), the building regulations shall govern any new construction of buildings and new additions to existing buildings, but shall not be applied to existing buildings or parts of buildings at the time of renovations or alterations to such buildings, except where any such renovation or alteration results in an existing building being further out of compliance with the building standards than was the case before the renovation or alteration was undertaken.

- (4) The Minister may make regulations
 - (a) providing for retrofitting standards designed to bring any prescribed class or classes of existing buildings up to acceptable levels of sanitation and safety from fire or natural hazards;
 - (b) requiring renovations or alterations to be made to the buildings referred to in paragraph (a) in order to achieve compliance to be undertaken; and
 - (c) prescribing periods within which buildings of any class are required to be retrofitted to conform with the standards.
- (5) Regulations made under this section may provide for different building standards governing
 - (a) the construction or retrofitting of buildings to be used as hurricane shelters; or
 - (b) the carrying out of building works in, on, over or under cultural heritage buildings, monuments and sites.
- (6) Regulations made under this section may provide for the certification, of building products, construction methods or design components or systems by the Barbados National Standards Institution or any accredited independent person or institution.
- (7) For the purpose of this section “Barbados National Standards Institution” means the institution referred to in the Standards Act, Cap. 326A.

Registered professionals

44I.(1) A professional governing body shall

- (a) establish, in relation to the profession that it regulates, minimum levels of professional competence required for the preparation of such categories of building plans as may be appropriate, so as to assure that detailed building plans submitted to the Board meet the standards prescribed in the building regulations;
- (b) issue a certificate of competence stating whether the person to whom it is issued is competent to certify that building plans submitted with respect to any development satisfy the standards prescribed in the building regulations.

(2) The Board shall accept a design certificate as conclusive of the facts to which it relates, provided that the registered professional certifying the design certificate is the holder of a certificate of competence issued by the professional governing body pursuant to subsection (1)(b).

(3) The Board shall maintain a comprehensive register of all certified registered professionals, showing the nature and category of applications for which each person was granted a certificate of competence as well as the limitations or restrictions to which such certificate is subject, including the period for which the certificate is valid.

(4) The Board shall, after consulting with any relevant professional governing body, by Order prescribe the minimum amount of professional liability insurance coverage required to be provided in respect of professional certification of building plans by registered professionals for all the categories of applications, except simple building applications.

(5) A registered professional shall file and maintain with the Board proof of financial responsibility as evidenced by professional liability insurance coverage in an amount sufficient to satisfy their obligations under this Act.

(6) Where the Board finds that any building plans or specifications are not in accordance with the requirements of the building regulations and the Building Code as certified, or have not been prepared by the registered professional who signed the design certificate, the Board shall

- (a) report the registered professional who signed the design certificate to the relevant professional governing body for professional misconduct;
- (b) suspend the acceptance of building plans bearing a design certificate signed by the registered professional referred to in paragraph (a) until notified by the relevant professional governing body of its decision with respect to the misconduct of the registered professional; and
- (c) where the registered professional is found guilty of professional misconduct, take such action as is necessary on its part to implement any sanctions imposed on the registered professional by the relevant governing body.”.
