CHAPTER

SMALL CHARGES ACT

AN ACT to provide for offences punishable with fines which do not exceed four thousand dollars, and to prohibit the commission of certain acts and offences in or against the public.

1961 Ed.
Cap. 53.
L.I. 11 of 1891.

[1st March 1892]

Commencement.

1. This Act may be cited as the –

Short title.

SMALL CHARGES ACT.

2. In this Act, “public place” includes any road, street, square, sidewalk, alley, court, path, wharf, pier, jetty, bridge, shop, courthouse or any other place to which the public have access or are admitted without payment.

Interpretation.

PART I

ARREST OF CERTAIN OFFENDERS

3. (1) It shall be lawful for any person whatsoever to apprehend any person who is found committing any offence upon conviction for which he would be deemed to be an idle and disorderly person, or a rogue and a vagabond or an incorrigible rascal within the meaning of this Act and –

Apprehension of idle and disorderly person,
etc.

(a) forthwith to take and convey him before a Magistrate;
or

(b) to deliver him to any constable or other peace officer of the place where he has been apprehended, to be taken and conveyed before a Magistrate, to be dealt with in such manner as herein directed.

(2) In case any constable or other peace officer –

(a) refuses or wilfully neglects to take any such offender into his custody and to take and convey him before some Magistrate; or

(b) does not use his best endeavours to take and convey before some Magistrate any person that he finds committing any such offence, it shall be deemed a neglect of duty in any such constable or other peace officer and he shall, on conviction, be punished in such manner as is directed in section 35.

Arrest of person found carrying arms, etc.

4. Any peace officer may arrest any person found carrying abroad any gun, pistol, hanger, cutlass, bludgeon or other offensive weapon, who is unable to give a satisfactory reason for the possession of the same, and take such person before a Magistrate.

Magistrate may issue warrant for apprehension of idle and disorderly person, etc.

5. Any Magistrate, upon oath of being made before him that any person has committed or is suspected of having committed any offence upon conviction for which he would be deemed to be an idle and disorderly person, or a rogue and a vagabond, or an incorrigible rouse within the meaning of this Act, may issue his warrant to apprehend and bring before him or some other Magistrate the person so charged to be dealt with as directed by this Act.

Magistrate may issue warrant to search for and apprehend idle and disorderly person, etc.

6. Any Magistrate, upon information given to him on oath that any person herein described as an idle and disorderly person, or as a rogue and a vagabond, or as an incorrigible rogue is or is reasonably suspected to be harboured or concealed in any house kept or purported to be kept for the reception, lodging or entertainment of travellers, may by warrant under his hand and seal, authorise any constable or other person or persons to enter at any time into such house and to apprehend and bring before him or any other Magistrate every such idle and disorderly person, rogue and vagabond, and incorrigible rogue as shall be found therein, to be dealt with in the manner herein directed.

Person found idle and disorderly person, etc., may be taken before Magistrate.

7. Any constable, peace officer or other person apprehending any person charged with being an idle and disorderly person, or a rogue and a vagabond or an incorrigible rogue, may take any horse, mule, ass, cart, car, caravan or other vehicle or goods in the possession or use of such person, and take and convey the same as well as such person before a Magistrate.
