COMMISSION REGULATION (EC) No 1808/2001

of 30 August 2001

laying down detailed rules concerning the implementation of Council Regulation (EC) No 338/97 on the protection of species of wild fauna and flora by regulating trade therein

THE COMMISSION OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES,

(EC) No 338/97 require that provisions be specified to ensure compliance with Article VII(3), of the Convention.

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Community,

5. In order to ensure that general derogations from the internal trade prohibitions contained in Article 8(1) of Regulation (EC) No 338/97 are uniformly applied, it is necessary to lay down conditions and criteria with regard to their definition.

Having regard to Council Regulation (EC) No 338/97 of 9 December 1996 on the protection of species of wild fauna and flora by regulating trade therein ⁽¹⁾, as last amended by Commission Regulation (EC) No 1579/2001 ⁽²⁾, and in particular Article 19(1), (2) and (4) thereof,

6. It is necessary to establish procedures for the marking of certain specimens of species in order to facilitate their identification and ensure enforcement of the provisions of Regulation (EC) No 338/97.

Whereas:

7. Provisions should be laid down regarding the contents, form and submission of the periodic reports provided for in Regulation (EC) No 338/97.

1. Provisions are required to implement Regulation (EC) No 338/97 and to ensure full compliance with the provisions of the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES) (hereinafter referred to as 'the Convention').

8. In order for future amendments to the Annexes to Regulation (EC) No 338/97 to be considered all relevant information must be available, particularly on the biological and trade status of species, their use and methods of controlling trade.

2. In order to ensure the uniform implementation of Regulation (EC) No 338/97, it is necessary to lay down detailed conditions and criteria for the consideration of permit and certificate applications and for the issue, validity and use of such documents. It is accordingly appropriate to lay down models to which the said forms must correspond.

9. Commission Regulation (EC) No 939/97 of 26 May 1997 laying down detailed rules concerning the implementation of Council Regulation (EC) No 338/97 on the protection of species of wild fauna and flora by regulating trade therein ⁽³⁾, as last amended by Regulation (EC) No 1006/98 ⁽⁴⁾, has been substantially amended several times; since further amendments are to be made, it should, in the interest of clarity, be repealed and replaced by a new regulation.

3. It is further necessary to lay down detailed provisions relating to the conditions and criteria for the treatment of specimens of animal species that are born and bred in captivity and of specimens of plant species that are artificially propagated in order to ensure the common implementation of the derogations applicable to such specimens.

4. The derogations for specimens that are personal and household effects provided for in Article 7(3) of Regulation

10. The measures provided for in this Regulation are in accordance with the opinion of the Committee on Trade in Wild Fauna and Flora,

CHAPTER II

PERIOD OF ISSUE, VALIDITY AND USE OF DOCUMENTS

SECTION 1

General

Article 4

1. Forms shall be completed in typescript. Applications for the permits and certificates referred to in Article 2(1) and (3), the import notifications referred to in Article 2(2) and the labels referred to in Article 2(4) may, however, be completed legibly in manuscript, in ink and in block capitals.

2. Forms other than application forms and the labels referred to in Article 2(4) may not contain any erasures or alterations, unless they have been authenticated by the stamp and signature of the issuing management authority, or, in the case of the import notifications referred to in Article 2(2), by the stamp and signature of the customs office of introduction.

3. In permits and certificates, as well as in applications for the issue of such documents:

(a) the description of specimens shall, where it is provided for, include one of the codes contained in Annex V;

(b) for the indication of units of quantity and net mass, those contained in Annex V shall be used;

(c) the standard references for nomenclature contained in Annex VI shall be used to indicate the scientific names of species;

(d) where required, the purpose of a transaction shall be indicated using one of the codes contained in point 1 of Annex VII;

(e) the source of specimens shall be indicated using one of the codes contained in point 2 of Annex VII and, where the use of such codes is subject to criteria laid down in Regulation (EC) No 338/97 or in this Regulation being met, only in compliance with such criteria.

4. If an annex is attached to any of the forms referred to in Article 2 which is an integral part of it, that fact and the number of pages shall be clearly indicated on the permit or certificate concerned and each page of the Annex shall include:

(a) the number of the permit or certificate and its date of issue; and

(b) the signature and the stamp or seal of the authority having issued the permit or certificate.

Where the form referred to in Article 2(1) is used for more than one species in a shipment, an annex shall be attached which, in addition to the requirements of the first subparagraph of this paragraph, shall, for each species in the shipment, reproduce boxes 8 to 22 of the form concerned as well as the spaces contained in box 27 thereof for the inclusion of the 'quantity/net mass actually imported' and, where appropriate, 'number of animals dead on arrival'.

Where the form referred to in Article 2(3) is used for more than one species, an annex shall be attached which, in addition to the requirements of the first subparagraph of this paragraph, shall, for each species, reproduce boxes 4 to 18 of the form concerned.

5. The provisions of paragraphs 1, 2, 3(c) and (d) and 4 shall also be applied in the context of decisions on the acceptability of permits and certificates issued by third countries for specimens to be introduced into the Community. Where such documents concern specimens subject to voluntarily fixed export quotas or export quotas allocated by the Conference of the Parties to the Convention, they shall only be accepted if they mention the total number of specimens already exported in the current year, including those covered by the permit in question, and the quota for the species concerned. Re-export certificates issued by third countries shall further only be accepted if they specify the country of origin and the number and date of issue of the relevant export permit and, where applicable, the country of last re-export and the number and date of issue of the relevant re-export certificate, or contain a satisfactory justification for the omission of such information.

Article 5

1. Documents shall be issued and used in accordance with the provisions and under the conditions laid down in this Regulation and in Regulation (EC) No 338/97, and in particular Article 11(1) to (4) thereof. They may contain stipulations, conditions and requirements imposed by the issuing authority in order to ensure compliance with these Regulations and with the provisions of Member States' legislation on their implementation.

2. The use of documents shall be without prejudice to any other formalities relating to the movement of goods within the Community, to the introduction of goods into the Community or to their export or re-export therefrom and to the forms used for such formalities.

3. As a general rule, management authorities shall decide on the issue of permits and certificates within one month from the date of submission of a complete application. However, where the issuing authority consults third parties, such a decision may only be taken after the satisfactory completion of such consultation. Applicants shall be notified of significant delays in processing their applications.

Article 6

A separate import permit, import notification, export permit or re-export certificate shall be issued for each shipment of specimens shipped together as part of one load.

Article 7

1. The period of validity of Community import permits shall not exceed 12 months. An import permit shall, however, not be valid in the absence of a valid corresponding document from the country of export or re-export.

The period of validity of Community export permits and re-export certificates shall not exceed six months.

After their expiry, the Community permits and certificates referred to in the first and second subparagraphs shall be considered as void and of no legal value whatsoever.

The holder shall without undue delay return the original and all copies of an expired or unused Community import permit, export permit or re-export certificate to the issuing management authority.

2. The certificates referred to in Article 20 and copies for the holder of used import permits shall cease to be valid when live specimens referred to therein have died, where live animals have escaped, where specimens were destroyed, or where any of the entries in boxes 2 and 4 of a certificate, or boxes 3, in the case of species listed in Annex A to Regulation (EC) No 338/97, 6 and 8 of a copy for the holder of a used import permit, no longer reflect the actual situation.

The certificates referred to in Article 20(3)(e) and Article 30 shall cease to be valid when the entry in box 1 no longer reflects the actual situation.

Such documents shall without undue delay be returned to the issuing authority which, where appropriate, may issue a certificate reflecting such changes in accordance with Article 21.

3. When a permit or certificate is issued to replace a document that has been cancelled, lost, stolen, destroyed, or that, in the case of a permit or re-export certificate, has expired, it shall indicate the number of the replaced document and the reason for the replacement in the box reserved for the entry of 'special conditions'.

4. When an export permit or re-export certificate has been cancelled, lost, stolen, or destroyed, the issuing management authority shall inform the management authority of the country of destination and the secretariat of the Convention thereof.

Article 8

1. Import permits, export permits and re-export certificates shall, taking account of Article 5(3), be applied for in sufficient time to allow their issue prior to the introduction of specimens into or their export or re-export from the Community.

Specimens shall not be authorised to be assigned to a customs procedure until after the presentation of the requisite documents.

2. In the case of introduction of specimens into the Community, the requisite documents from third countries shall only be considered valid where they have been issued and used for export or re-export from that country prior to their last day of validity and are used for introduction into the Community no later than six months from their date of issue.

However, certificates of origin for specimens of species listed in Annex C to Regulation (EC) No 338/97 may be used for introduction into the Community until 12 months from their date of issue.

3. By way of derogation from paragraph 1, first subparagraph, and paragraph 2 and provided the importer/(re-)exporter informs the competent management authority on arrival/before departure of a shipment of the reasons why the required documents are not available, documents for specimens of species listed in Annex B or C to Regulation (EC) No 338/97, as well as for specimens of species listed in Annex A to that Regulation and referred to in Article 4(5) thereof, may exceptionally be issued retrospectively where the competent management authority of the Member State, where appropriate in consultation with the competent authorities of a third country, is satisfied that:

- (a) any irregularities which have occurred are not attributable to the (re-)exporter and/or the importer; and
- (b) that the (re-)export/import of the specimens concerned is otherwise in compliance with the provisions of:
 - (i) Regulation (EC) No 338/97,
 - (ii) the Convention, and
 - (iii) the relevant legislation of a third country.

4. Export permits and re-export certificates issued pursuant to paragraph 3 shall clearly indicate that they have been issued retrospectively and the reasons for such issue. In the case of Community import permits, export permits and re-export certificates, this indication shall be included in box 23.

5. With the exception of paragraph 3(b)(i), the provisions of paragraphs 2, 3 and 4 shall, in accordance with Article 7(2)(c) of Regulation (EC) No 338/97, apply mutatis mutandis to specimens of species listed in Annexes A and B to that Regulation which are in transit through the Community.

6. In the case of artificially propagated plants of species listed in Annexes B and C to Regulation (EC) No 338/97 and of artificially propagated hybrids produced from unannotated species listed in Annex A thereto, Member States may provide that a plant health certificate shall be used instead of an export permit or re-export certificate. When issued by third countries, such plant health certificates shall be accepted instead of an export permit or re-export certificate.

7. Where a plant health certificate referred to in paragraph 6 is used, it shall include the scientific name at the species level or, if this is impossible for those taxa included by family in the Annexes to Regulation (EC) No 338/97, at the generic level, whereas artificially propagated orchids and cacti listed in

Annex B thereto may be referred to as such. Plant health certificates shall also include the type and quantity of specimens and bear a stamp, seal or other specific indication stating that 'the specimens are artificially propagated as defined by CITES'.

Member States may, however, provide that only an application form is to be completed, in which case such an application may relate to more than one shipment.

2. The duly completed form(s) must be submitted to the management authority of the Member State of destination and shall contain the information and be accompanied by the documentary evidence that that authority deems necessary in order to allow it to determine whether, on the basis of Article 4 of Regulation (EC) No 338/97, a permit should be issued. The omission of information from the application must be justified. When an application is made for a permit relating to specimens for which such an application has previously been rejected, the applicant must inform the management authority of such a previous rejection.

Article 10

1. In the case of an import permit issued for specimens of species included in Appendix I to the Convention and listed in Annex A to Regulation (EC) No 338/97, the 'copy for the exporting or re-exporting country' may be returned to the applicant for submission to the management authority of the country of export or re-export. The original shall, in accordance with Article 4(1)(b)(ii) of Regulation (EC) No 338/97, be withheld pending presentation of the corresponding export permit or re-export certificate.

2. Where the 'copy for the exporting or re-exporting country' is not returned to the applicant, the latter shall be given a written statement that an import permit will be issued and on what conditions.

Article 11

Without prejudice to Article 23, the importer or his authorised representative shall surrender the original (form 1), the 'copy for the holder' (form 2) and, where this is specified in the import permit, any documentation from the country of export or re-export to the border customs office at the point of introduction into the Community, designated in accordance with Article 12(1) of Regulation (EC) No 338/97. Where appropriate, he shall indicate the number of the bill of lading or air waybill in box 26.

Article 12

2. The duly completed form(s) must be submitted to the management authority of the Member State in whose territory the specimens are located and shall contain the information and be accompanied by the documentary evidence that the authority deems necessary to allow it to determine whether, on the basis of Article 5 of Regulation (EC) No 338/97, a permit/certificate should be issued. The omission of information from the application must be justified. When an application is made for a permit or certificate relating to specimens for which such an application has previously been rejected, the applicant must inform the management authority of such a previous rejection.

3. Where in support of an application for a re-export certificate a 'copy for the holder' of an import permit, a 'copy for the importer' of an import notification, or a certificate issued on the basis thereof, is presented, such documents shall only be returned to the applicant after amendment of the number of specimens for which the document remains valid. Such a document shall not be returned to the applicant if the re-export certificate is granted for the total number of specimens for which it is valid, or where it is replaced in accordance with Article 21. The management authority shall establish the validity of any supporting documents, where necessary in consultation with a management authority of another Member State.

The provisions of the first subparagraph shall also apply where a certificate is presented in support of an application for an export permit.

Where, under the supervision of a management authority of a Member State, specimens have been individually marked so as to allow an easy reference to the documents referred to in the first and second subparagraphs, the latter shall not be required to be physically presented together with the application, provided that their number is included in the application.

In the absence of the supporting evidence referred to in the first, second and third subparagraphs, the management authority shall establish the legal introduction into or acquisition in the Community of the specimens to be (re-)exported, where necessary in consultation with a management authority of another Member State.

The 'copy for return to the issuing authority' (form 3) shall be forwarded as specified in Article 19.

herbarium specimens, preserved, dried or embedded museum specimens and live plant material for scientific study.

2. A registration number shall be attributed to the scientists and scientific institutions referred to in paragraph 1 by a management authority of the Member State in which they are located, which shall contain five digits, the first two of which shall be the two-letter ISO country code for the Member State concerned and the last three a unique number assigned to each institution by the competent management authority.

Article 24

Without prejudice to Article 25, a specimen of an animal species shall only be considered to be born and bred in captivity when a competent management authority in consultation with a competent scientific authority of the Member State concerned is satisfied that:

- (a) it is, or is derived from, the offspring born or otherwise produced in a controlled environment either of parents that mated or had gametes otherwise transferred in a controlled environment, if reproduction is sexual, or of parents that were in a controlled environment when development of the offspring began, if reproduction is asexual;
- (b) the breeding stock was established in accordance with the legal provisions applicable to it at the time of acquisition and in a manner not detrimental to the survival of the species concerned in the wild;
- (c) the breeding stock is maintained without the introduction of specimens from the wild, except for the occasional addition of animals, eggs or gametes, in accordance with the legal provisions applicable and in a manner not detrimental to the survival of the species concerned in the wild for the following purposes only:
- (i) to prevent or alleviate deleterious inbreeding, the magnitude of such addition being determined by the need for new genetic material;
- (ii) to dispose of confiscated animals in accordance with Article 16(3) of Regulation (EC) No 338/97; or
- (iii) exceptionally, for use as breeding stock;

Article 25

Where, for the purposes of Article 24, Article 32(a) or Article 33(1), a competent authority deems it necessary to establish the ancestry of an animal through the analysis of blood or other tissue, such analysis, or the necessary samples, shall be made available in a manner prescribed by that authority.

Article 26

A specimen of a plant species shall only be considered to be artificially propagated when a competent management authority in consultation with a competent scientific authority of the Member State concerned is satisfied that:

- (a) it is, or is derived from, plants grown from seeds, cuttings, divisions, callus tissues or other plant tissues, spores or other propagules under controlled conditions, i.e. in a non-natural environment that is intensively manipulated by human intervention, which may include tillage, fertilisation, weed control, irrigation, or nursery operations such as potting, bedding and protecting from weather;

- (b) the cultivated parental stock was established in accordance with the legal provisions applicable to it on the date of acquisition and is maintained in a manner not detrimental to the survival of the species in the wild;
- (c) the cultivated parental stock is managed in such a way that its long-term maintenance is guaranteed; and
- (d) in the case of grafted plants, both the root stock and the graft have been artificially propagated in accordance with points (a), (b) and (c).

Timber taken from trees grown in monospecific plantations shall be considered as being artificially propagated in accordance with the first subparagraph.

 - (b) live vertebrates other than captive born and bred birds shall be marked by means of a uniquely numbered unalterable microchip transponder conforming to ISO standards 11784:1996 (E) and 11785:1996 (E), or, where the competent management authority is satisfied that this method is not appropriate because of the physical or behavioural properties of the specimen/species, the specimens concerned shall be marked by means of uniquely numbered rings, bands, tags, tattoos and the like, or be made identifiable by any other appropriate means.
2. Article 34(1) shall not apply where the competent management authority is satisfied that the physical properties of the specimens involved do not, at the time of issue of the relevant certificate, allow the safe application of any marking method. Where this circumstance applies, the management authority concerned shall record this in box 20 of the certificate, or, where a marking method can be safely applied at a later date, include the appropriate stipulations therein.
3. Specimens that were marked with a microchip transponder other than one conforming to ISO standards 11784:1996 (E) and 11785:1996 (E) before 1 January 2002, or with one of the methods referred to in paragraph 1 before 1 June 1997, or in compliance with paragraph 4 before their introduction into the Community, shall be deemed to have been marked in compliance with paragraph 1.

5. Captive born and bred birds shall be marked by means of a uniquely marked seamlessly closed leg-ring, i.e. a ring or band in a continuous circle, without any break or join, which has not been tampered with in any way, of a size which cannot be removed from the bird when its leg is fully grown after having been applied in the first days of the bird's life and which has been commercially manufactured for that purpose.

Article 37

Where, in the territory of the Community, the marking of live animals requires the attachment of a tag, band, ring or other device, the marking of a part of the animal's anatomy, or the implantation of microchip transponders, this shall be undertaken with due regard to humane care, well-being and natural behaviour of the specimen concerned.

Article 38

1. The competent authorities of the Member States shall recognise the marking methods approved by the competent authorities of other Member States in accordance with Article 36.

2. Where such a document is required pursuant to the provisions of this Regulation, full details of the mark shall be provided on any permit or certificate relating to the specimen.
