AN ACT TO REPEAL AND REENACT CHAPTER 50 OF TITLE 10 GUAM CODE ANNOTATED, RELATIVE TO THE GUAM PESTICIDES ACT.

1 BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF GUAM:

2 Section 1. Legislative Findings and Intent. I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds
3 that since the passage of Public Law 14-22 in 1977 there has been a general
4 increase in the importation of pesticides on Guam. During this time, there has also 5 been illegal importation of banned pesticides and foreign manufactured pesticides.
6 Also, with an increase in the farming population and an estimate of one thousand 7 two hundred (1200) farms of various sizes, there has been an increase in the use of 8 pesticides island-wide. Of growing concern is the misuse and misapplication of 1 pesticides. Additionally, many of the larger farming operations are located over 2 the northern aquifer. Pesticide contamination of Guam's groundwater and surface

3 water, which represent nearly ninety-eight percent (98%) of Guam's raw drinking
4 water, is of particular concern. The increased use of pesticides has contributed to a 5 loss of biodiversity and possible health effects of authorized pesticides include, 6 immunological effects, endocrine disrupting effects, neurotoxicological disorders
7 and various types of cancer. Further exacerbating the situation are the attempts to 8 smuggle illegal and highly dangerous pesticides from foreign countries. Guam 9 Customs and Quarantine Agency, together with the Guam Environmental 10 Protection Agency, has been successful in intercepting shipments into Guam of 11 illegal pesticides, however it is also unknown if some foreign pesticides have 12 eluded authorities and made their way into the island and onto plants, soil, our 13 water resources and into food products.

14 Reducing the use of, and dependence on, pesticides is necessary in order to 15 minimize problems relating to pest resistance, secondary pest problems and the 16 depletion of agricultural soils. I Liheslaturan Guåhan further finds that improving 17 the knowledge of the individual pesticide users is an essential prerequisite for 18 changing behavior and practices. Hence, training, education and the 19 dissemination of information should be a crucial element of the thematic strategy 20 and for the training of agricultural commodity applicators and occupational 21 applicators (farmers and operators) a comprehensive framework/guidelines are 22 needed. It is the intent of I Liheslatura to strengthen the Guam Pesticide Act in 23 order to address current pesticide challenges and sustain our environment. In light 24 of our current need to protect human health and the environment, it is critical that I
25 Liheslaturan Guåhan update the Pesticide Control Act to reflect the challenges of 26 today.

2 §50101. Title and Purpose. This Chapter may be cited as the 3 “Guam Pesticides Act of 2007” and has the following purposes:

6 imposing an administrative penalty include the nature and history of the 7 violation and of any prior violations, and the opportunity, difficulty, and 8 history of corrective action. It is presumed that the violator's economic and 9 financial conditions allow payment of the penalty, and the burden of proof to 10 the contrary is on the violator. In any proceeding to recover the civil penalty
11 imposed, the Administrator need only show that notice was given, a hearing 12 was held or the time granted for requesting a hearing has expired without 26 therefore.

5 and to this end the provisions of this Act are severable.”
