

ASSAM FOREST REGULATION, 1891

(Regulation 7 of 1891)

A regulation to amend the law relating to Forest, Forest produce and the duty leviable on timber in Assam

Whereas it is expedient to amend the law relating to Forests, Forest produce and the duty leviable on timber in Assam;

It is hereby enacted as follows:

CHAPTER I

Preliminary

1. Title, extent and commencement.

- (1) This Regulation may be called the Assam Forest Regulation, 1891.
- (2) It extends to the whole of the territories administered by the Government to Assam:

Provided that the state Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, exempt any place from the operation of the whole or any part thereof, and withdraw such exemption; and

- (3) It shall come in to force on such dates, as the State Government by notification in the official Gazette, directs.
- (4) A notification under the proviso to sub-S. (2), exempting a place from the operation of the whole or any part of the Regulation, shall not affect anything done, or any offence committed, or any fine or penalty imposed, in such place before such exemption.

COMMENTS

The Indian Forest Act, 1878 was extended in its application to the Province of Assam, but this Act was repealed so far as it related to Assam and the Indian Forest Act, 1927 (Act XVI of 1927) was re-enacted with the object to consolidate the law relating to Forests, the transit of Forest produce and the duty leviable on timber and other Forest produce.

2. [Repealed by Act I of 1938].

- (9) “Magistrate” means a Magistrate of the first or second class, and includes a Magistrate of the third class, when he is specially empowered by the State Government to try Forest offences Forest offences.

COMMENTS

In sub-S. (1) the word “ Forest Ranger, Deputy Ranger, Forester, Assistant Forester” were substituted for the words “ Sub-Assistant Conservator , Forest Ranger, Forest” by ;Assam act IX of 1952.

Sub- section (3) was substituted by Assam Act No.XIV of 1952.

In sub S. (4) (a) The word “rhinoceros horns” were inserted by Assam Act III of 1933, and the same Amendment Act in sub – S. 4 (b) (III) the words “ (tusks and horns other than rhinoceros horns)” were substituted for the words “ tusks/horns”.

The definition of “forest offence and “ forest produce” are similar to S. 2 (3) and 2 (4) respectively of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

“Elephant” was held to be not “forest produce “ within the meaning of S 3, in Hira Bordoloi v. The Deputy Commissioner [AIR1976Gau 36].

The expression Forest produce has been defined; in the Regulation. The question as to whether stone is a Forest produce came up for consideration before the Supreme Court in Divisional Forest Officer v. Mool Chand Saraugi Jain [AIR 1971 SC 694], where it was held that it is doubtful whether stone is a forest produce. This was followed in Prameswar Das v. State of Assam [AIR 1971 Gau 51]. Similarly it was held in Bejiram Ingty v. state of Assam [(1981) 1 GLR 222] that “ stone “ is not a forest produce. It was also held that when stone is not a forest produce it cannot come within the fold of the fold of the term ‘mahal’.

Amendment of 1995 including “Veneer” in the definition of Timber. “Veneer” is not a natural state like timber. It was held in Tumda Saw and veneer Mills v. State of Assam [(1996) 3 GLR 170] that the State Legislature is not competent to make law to include “Veneer” in the definition of “timber” by amendment Act of 1995. Also held that transit passes cannot be insisted for transportation of “Veneer”. It cannot be said to be a Forest produce like “Timber” and there for cannot be included in the definition of “Timber”. It was held North Cachar Timber Products v. State of Assam [(1993) 2 GLR 86], that after treatment, labour; and manipulation of log/timber in the Veneer Mill. Veneer emerges and a finished product having distinct name, character and use and cannot be termed as of forest produce.

21 Acquisition of right over reserved Forests.

No right of any description shall be acquired in or over a reserved forest, except by succession or under grant or contract in writing made by, or with the previous sanction of the State Government or some person on whom such right, or the power to create such right, vested when the notification under S.17 was published.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 23 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

Rule 21 clearly shows that no one has any right in or over a reserved forest except as laid down under the provision of that rule. This rule authorised the Government to grant right over reserved forest under a contract in writing. This is one of the methods open to the Government to grant various rights to persons in reserved forest. This rule enables the Government to follow particular method, to grant certain rights under a contract in writing. The contract entered in pursuance of this rule does not cease to be contract under the law as in ordinarily understood. The contract is a legal and valid contract but is not a statutory contract. The agreement has the force of contract whatever it is and not that of la statue as held in Woodcrafts Assam v. the Chief of Conservator of Forests, Assam [AIR 1971 A & N 92].

22. Alienation of right in reserved forests.

- (1) Notwithstanding anything herein contained no right contained under s.13 shall be alienated by way of grant, sale, lease, and mortgage or otherwise without the previous sanction of the State Government:

Provided that, when any such right is continued for the beneficial enjoyment of any land or building, it may be sold or other wise alienated with such sanction.

- (2) The benefit of any right continued under S. 13 shall not be leased, sold or bartered, except to the extent by the order record under that sanction.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 24 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

23. Power to stop ways and water courses in reserved Forests.

Any Forest Officer may, from time to time, with the previous sanction of the State Government or of a Forest Officer or other Officer authorised by the State Government in this behalf, stop any public or private way or water course in reserved forest:

Provided that for the way or water course so stopped another way or water course, which, in the opinion of the State Government equally convenient already exists or has been provided by the Forest Officer stopping the way or water-course.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 25 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

24. Penalties for trespass or damage in reserved forests.

Any person who in a reserved forests –

- (a) trespasses, or pastures cattle, or permits cattle to trespass, or
- (b) causes any damage by negligence in felling any tree or cutting or dragging any timber,
- (c) [Deleted].

Shall be punished with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees or with imprisonment which may extend to one year or with both, or when the damage resulting for his offence amounts to more the one thousands rupees, with fine which is not less the five thousand rupees or with imprisonment which is not less than one year but may extend to three years or with both

COMMENTS

In this section, Cl. (c) was omitted by Assam Act III of 1933, which read as follows:

“Poisonous water or, in contravention of any rules made by the local Government, hunts, shoots, fishes, or sets traps; or snares”.

The words “and in cases where a rhinoceros has been killed, with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both”, were inserted by Assam Act 1 of 1931 at the end of the section and subsequently omitted by Assam Act III of 1933.

When a statute defines trespass, the ingredients thereof must be satisfied. Section 441 of the Indian Penal Code deals with criminal trespass, as whoever enters; in to or upon property in the possession of another with intent to commit an offence or to intimidate, insult or annoy any person in possession of such property, or having lawfully entered into or upon such property, unlawfully remains there with intent there by to intimidate, annoy or to commit any offence, is said to commit criminal trespass. Trespass to property is a civil wrong but when it is committed with a criminal intent it is treated as criminal offence. Criminal trespass is known in English law as ‘forcible entry’.

The paragraph after Cl.(c) was substituted by Assam Act XIV of 1995.

25. Acts prohibited in such forest.

Any person who –

- (a) makes any fresh clearing prohibited by S.7, or
- (b) sets fire to reserved forest , or in contravention of any rules by the State Government kindles any fire, or leaves fire burning, in such manner as to endanger such a forest, or who in any such forest -

- (c) kindles, keeps or carries any fire except at such seasons and in such manner as Forest Officer specially empowered in this behalf any from time to time notify ,or
- (d) fells, cuts, girdles, marks, lops taps or injures by the fire or otherwise any tree, or
- (e) quarries stone, burns lime or charcoal or collects, subject to any manufacturing process or removes any forest produces, or
- (f) clears or breaks up and land for cultivation or any other purpose, or
- (g) poisons water or, in contravention of any rules made by the State Government hunts, fishes or sets traps or snares,

Shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which is not less than one year but may extend to three years or with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees or with both.

COMMENTS

Clause (g) was inserted by Assam Act III of 1933.

In the last paragraph after Cl. (g) the word “or with fine with both”, were substituted for the words “or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both”, by Assam Act III of 1933; and further substituted by Assam Act XIV of 1995.

This section is similar to S. 26 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

The allegation in the offence report in Dharnidhar Goswami V. Range Forest Officer [(1985) 1 GLR 42], was about felling of 86 trees illegally, but the offence report showed that no case was made out.

26. Acts excepted from Ss. 24 and 25.

Nothing in S. 24 or 25 shall be deemed to prohibit –

- (a) any practices of jhum cultivation permitted under S.10, or
- (b) the exercise in accordance with the rules, if any made by the State Government under S. 13 of any right; continued under that section, or
- (c) the exercise of any right created by grant or contract in manner described in S. 21 , or
- (d) any act done with the permission in writing of Forest official specially empowered to grant such permission .

27. Penalty for offences committed by persons having rights in reserved forest.

Whenever fire is caused willfully or by gross negligence in a reserved forest by any person having right in such forest or permission to practice jhum cultivation therein, or by any person in his employment or whenever any person having right in such Forest contravenes the provision of S. 22, the State Government may, notwithstanding the infliction of any punishment under this Regulation, direct that in such forest, or any specified portion thereof, the exercise of all or any of the right of pasture or the forest produce shall be extinguished, or for such period as it think fit be suspended, and with respect to practice of jhum cultivation, may take such action under S. 10, sub-S . (4), as may seem to it to be proper .

28 Power to declare forests no longer reserved.

- (1) the state Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, direct that from a date to be fixed by such notification, any forest, or any portion therefore, reserved under this regulation shall cased to be received.
- (2) From the date so fixed such forest or portion shall cease to be reserved, but the right, if any, which have been extinguished therein shall not revive in consequence of such cassation.

- (3) The State Government may direct that any rule made under this section may not apply to any specified class of timber or other Forest produce or to any specified local area.

COMMENTS

In this section in Cl. (1) the words “and saw; mills” were inserted by Assam Act IX of 1995 date 11th May, 1964, and substituted by; Assam Act No. XIV of 1995.

This section is similar to S. 41 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

It was held in Ramesh Choudhary v. Narayan Bhuyan [(1985) 1 GLR 39], that no previous sanction or consent of the Government or any other authority is required under the law, for prosecution under Ss .34 and 35 of the Regulation .

Refusal to renew saw mill licence because of pendency of ejectment suit by the landlord, In Guru; Nanak Saw Mills v State of Assam [(1987) 2 GLR 303], the forest authorities refused to renew the licence on the ground of pendency of ejectment suit by the landlord against the tenant and unless the tenant shifts to some other site. It was held that whether the lease was terminated would be decided by the court; and that the prayer for renewal of lease should be considered de hors.

Suspension of licence of saw mill. It was held in Kishi Nath Pandey v. State of Assam [(1987) 2 GLR 368] that; there was no statutory; provision for suspension of licence of a sawmill. Hence the order or suspension was held to be arbitrary and illegal. A licence to run a saw mill must be held to be a property, inasmuch as; by virtue of it one is able to earn his livelihood by running the saw mill which he otherwise could not have done.

Transit pass in respect of an elephant cannot be held to represent a document of title in respect an animal [Anowaruddin Choudhury v State of Assam, (1984) 2 GLR 142].

Purpose of introduction of transit pass [North Cachar; Timber Products v. State of Assam, (1003) 2 GLR 86].

For movement/transportation of Veneer, obtaining transit pass and production thereof at the check gate is not necessary [ibid]. The respondents were directed not to insist on obtaining transit pass and production there of at the check gate for transporting of veneer.

As held in Md. Jinnat Goni v. The Chief Conservator of Forest [(1995) 2 GLR 23], the transit pass is not transferable to the transferee to whom forest produce is sold. It is to be issued by the authority concerned.

40-A. Powers of Central Government as to movement of timber across customs frontiers.

Notwithstanding any thing in S. 40, the Central Government may make rules to prescribe the route by which alone timber or other forest produce may be imported, exported, or moved into or from (Assam) across any rule made under S. 40 shall have effect subject to the rules made under this section.

COMMENTS

- (d) Alters, moves, destroys or defaces any boundary marks of any Forest or wasteland to which any provision of this Regulation apply, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term, which is not less than three years, and may extend to seven years or with fine which is not less the five thousand rupees or with both.

COMMENTS

For similar section see S. 63 of the India Forest Act, 1927

In S. 59, the words “It may extend to two years or with fine or with both” were substituted by the words “which is not less than three years, and may extend to seven years or with fine which is not less than five thousand rupees or with both”, by Assam Act No XIV of 1995.

60. Power to arrest with out warrant.

- (1) Any Forest Officer or Police Officer, may, with out orders from a Magistrate and without a warrant arrest any person reasonable suspected of having been concerned in any forest offence punishable with imprisonment for one month or upwards if such person refuses to give his name and residence, or given name or residence of which there is reason to believe to be false or if there is reason to believe that he will abscond.

- (2) Every Officer making and arrest under this section shall, without unnecessary delay take or send the person arrested before a magistrate having jurisdiction in the case
- (3) Any Forest Officer or Police Officer who vexatiously or maliciously arrests any person on the pretence that he is suspected of having been concerned in any forest offence or other wise as provided by S. 60 (1) of this Regulation shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, with both.
- (4) No Forest Officer or police Officer shall detain in custody a person arrested under Sub-S. (1) of this section for a longer period than under all the circumstances of the case is reasonable; and such period shall not exceed twenty-four hours exclusively of the time necessary of the journey from the place of arrest to the Magistrates Court having jurisdiction in the case.

COMMENTS

Sub-sections (3) and (4) of this section were inserted by Assam Act II of 1943 for similar provision see S .64 of the Indian Forest Act 1927.

61. Power to prevent commission of offence.

It shall be the duty of every Forest Offices and Police Officer to prevent, and any such Officer may interfere for the purpose of preventing, the commission of any forest offence.

COMMENTS

For similar provision see S. 66 of Indian Forest Act, 1927.

62. Power to compound offences.

- (1) The State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, empower a Forest Officer by name, or as holding an office -
 - (a) to accept from any person against whom a reasonable suspicion exists that he was committed any forest offence, other than an offence specified in S. 58 or S. 59 a sum of money by way of compensation for the offence which such person is suspected to have committed and
 - (b) when any property has been seized as liable to confiscation, to release the same on payment of the value thereof as estimated by such officer.
- (2) On payment of such sum of money, or such value or both, as the case may be, to such offices, the suspected person, if in custody shall be discharged, the property, if any seized shall be released and no further proceeding shall be taken against such person or property.
- (3) No Forest Officer shall be empowered under this section unless he is of the rank of an Assistant Conservator of Forests or above and the sum of money accepted, as compensation under Sub S. (1) of Cl. (a) shall in no case exceed five thousand rupees.

COMMENTS

This provision only empowers a Forrest Officers to accept compensation for a forest offence from a person suspected of having committed it. The person so suspected can avoid being proceeded with for the offence by rendering compensation. He may think that he was being unjustly suspected en of an offence and he ought to defend himself or he may consider it prudent on he part to pay such compensation in order to avoid the harassment of prosecution even when he is of the view that he had not committed the offence. By adopting the latter course he does not remove the suspicion of having committed the offence unless he is to have such benefit conferred on him by some provision of law. In effect the payment of compensation amounts to his acceptance of the truth of the charge against him. Sub-section (2) of this section only protect him with regard to further; proceeding, but has not the effect of clearing his character or vindication his conduct [Biswabahan Das v. Gopen Chandra Hazarika, AIR 1967 SC 895]. Their Lordships in this case also held that the Board of Revenue had not gone wrong in law in taking; in to consideration the conduct of rendering compensation for a forest offence.

Sub-section (3) was substituted vide Assam Act No XIV of 1995.

63. Presumption that forest produce belongs to Government.

When in any proceeding taken under this Regulation or in consequences of any thing done under this Regulation question arises as to whether any forest produce is the property of the Government, such produce shall be presumed to be the property of Government until the contrary is proved.

COMMENTS

This section was omitted by Assam Act II of 1943 and again inserted by Assam Act XXXVII of 1950.

For similar provision see S. 69 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

64. Compensation for damage caused cause by commission of offence.

(1) When any person in convicted of felling, cutting, girdling marking, lopping or tapping trees or of injuring them by fire or otherwise in contravention of this Regulation or of any rules thereunder, the convicting Court may, in addition to the other punishment which it may award, order that person to pay to the state Government such compensation, not less than one thousand rupees for each tree with respect to which the offence was committed, as it may deem just.

(2) If the person convicted of the offence committed is the agent or servant of another person, the convicting Court may, unless after hearing that other person, it is satisfied that the commission of the offence was not a consequence of his instigation, or of any neglect or default on his part the compensation referred to in Sub-S. (1)

- (3) An appeal from any order under sub s (1) or sub-S. (2) shall lie to the Court to which orders made by the convicting Court as ordinarily appealable, and the order passed on such appeal shall be final.

65. Forfeiture of leases of leases.

When the holder of any lease, licence or contract whatsoever granted or continue by or on behalf of the Government for any of the purposes of this Regulation commits an offence commits an offence against his Regulation or any rule thereunder, or when any such offence is committed by any agent or servant of the holder of lease, licence or contract, and the State Government is satisfied that the commission of the offence was a consequence of the instigation of such holder, of any neglect or default on his part, the State Government may, by order; in part with effect on and from a date to be specified in the order not being prior to the date of the commission of the offence .

 - (i) power to take possession of property under this Regulation;
 - (j) power to direct the release of property or withdraw of charges; and may withdraw any power so conferred.
- (2) Any evidence recorded under Cl. (d) of sub S. (1) shall be admissible in any subsequent trial before a Magistrate of the alleged offender;

Provided that it has been taken in the presence of the accused person and recorded in the manner provided by S. 355, S. 356 or 357 of the Code of Criminal procedure, 1882.

COMMENTS

The Code of Criminal procedure, 1898 has been repealed and re-enacted as code of criminal procedure, 1898 and again that 1898 Code has been repealed and re-enacted as code of Criminal Procedure 1973. Now the provisions of the sections given in S. 68 of the Assam Forest Regulation have been provided for in Ss. 274, 275, 276 and 277 of the 1973 code

This section is similar to S. 72 of the Indian FOREST Act, 1927.

69. Forest Officers deemed to be public servant.

All Forest Officers shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Indian penal code.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 73 of Indian Forest Act, 1927.

70. Indemnity for acts done in good faith.

No suit or criminal prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any public servant or anything done in good faith or omitted to be done likewise under these Regulations or the rules or orders made thereunder.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 74 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927. It was substituted by Assam Act XIX of 1995.

71. Forest Officers not to trade.

No Forest Officer shall, as principal or agent, trade in forest produce, or be or become interested in any lease or mortgage of any forest, or in any contract for working any forest, whether in India or in any foreign territory.

COMMENTS

CHAPTER XI

Supplemental provisions

72. Additional powers to make rules.

The State Government may make rules consistent with this Regulation:

- (a) to declare by with Forest Officer or Class of Forest Officers the powers or duties conferred or imposed by or under this Regulation on a Forest Officer are to be exercised or performed;
- (b) to regulate procedure of Forest Settlement Officers;
- (c) to provide for ejectment of any person who has entered into unauthorised occupation in a forest reserve and for the disposal of any crops raised, or any building or other construction erected without authority in forest reserves;

No Civil Court shall exercise jurisdiction in any matter provided for by the rules made under this clause;

- (d) to regulate the rewards to be paid to officers and informers;
and
- (e) generally, to carry out the provisions of this Regulation.

COMMENTS

Clause (c) was substituted vide Assam Act XXIV of 1971, Published in the Assam Gazette, dated the 12th December, 1971 to come in to force at once and the substituted clause read as follows :

“to provide for the ejectment of any person who has encroached upon forest reserves”.

The Assam Amendment Act repealed the Assam Forest Regulation (Amendment) Ordinance, 1971, but notwithstanding such repeal anything done or any action taken under the ordinance, as repealed shall be deemed to have done or taken under this Act which had commenced on the twenty fourth day of August, 1971 (date of promulgation of the Ordinance).

Clause (c) was added by Assam Act IX of 1946 and the then Cls. (c) and (d) re-numbered as Cls. (d) and (e).

This section is similar to S. 76 of Indian Forest Act, 1927.

As held in Dinesh Sangma v. Divisional Forest Officer, West Division Karbi Anlong District, Diphu [(1983) 1 GLR 505] that in the interest or justice to which the ignorant petitioners in the case are entitled to, it would be the prime obligation or rather the constitutional obligation of the Government to trace out all the connected records and then to decide who are the real ‘allottees’ and who are not. The Government should proceed to take action against those who have encroached upon land beyond the areas allotted to them. The authorities should be extremely vigilant to protect and safeguard the forest and wild life.

73. Rules when to have force of law.

All rules made by the State Government under this Regulation shall be published in the official Gazette and shall thereupon have the force of law.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 78 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

74. Person bound to assist Forest Officer and Police Officer.

Every person who exercises any right in a reserved forest or village forest, or who is permitted to remove any forest produce from or to pasture cattle or practice jhum cultivation in such forest; and every person who is employed by such person in such forest and every person in any village contiguous to such forest, who is employed by the Government for services to be performed to the community;

shall be bound to furnish, without unnecessary delay, to the nearest Forest Officer or Police Officer any information which he may possess respecting the occurrence of a fire in or near such forest, or the commission of, or intention to commit, any forest offence and shall assist any Forest Officer or Police Officer demanding his aid -

- (a) in extinguishing any fire occurring in such forest;
- (b) in preventing any fire which may occur in vicinity of such forest from spreading to such forest.;
- (c) in preventing the commission such forest of any forest offence; and
- (d) when there is reason to believe that any such offence has been committed in such forest, in discovering and arresting the offender.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 79 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

75. Recovery of money due to the Government.

All money, other fines, payable to the Government under this Regulation, or under any rule made thereunder, or on account of the price of any forest produce or of expenses incurred in the execution of the Regulation in respect of any forest produce; may if not paid when due, be recovered under the law for the time being in force as if it were and arrear of land revenue.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 82 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

76. Lien on Forest produce for such money.

(1) When any such money is payable for, or in respect of, any forest produce, the amount thereof shall be deemed to be a first charge on such produce, and such produce may be taken possession of by a Forest Officer specially empowered in this behalf and may be retained by him until such amount has been paid.

(2) If such amount is not paid when due, such Forest Officer may sell such produce by public auction, and the proceeds of the sale shall be applied first in discharging such amount:

Provided that when no price is offered or the price offered in such auction is considered inadequate, the sale by such auction shall be stopped and such Forest Officer shall sell the produce in such other manner as the State Government may direct in this behalf.

(3) The surplus, if any, if not claimed within two months from the date of the sale by the person entitled thereto, shall be forfeited to the Government.

COMMENTS

The proviso to sub-S (2) was inserted by Assam Act XI of 1953 and is similar to S. 83 to the Indian Forest Act 1927.

77. Government and its officers not liable for loss or damage in respect of certain forest produce.

The Government shall not be responsible for any loss or damage which may occur in respect of any forest produce while at a revenue station established under a rule made under S. 40, or while detained elsewhere for the purposes of the Regulation, or in respect of any timber collected under S. 43 and no Forest Officers shall be responsible for any such loss or damages unless he shall have caused the same negligently maliciously or fraudulently

78. Land required under this regulation to be deemed to needed for public purpose.

Whenever it appears to the State Government that any land is required for any of the purposes of this Regulation such land shall be deemed to be needed for a public purpose, within the meaning of S. 4 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 84 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.

79. Recovery of penalties due under bond.

When any person, in compliance with any rule under this Regulation, binds himself by any instrument to perform any duty or act or conveys any instrument that he and his servants and agents will abstain from any act the whole sum mentioned in such instruments as the amount to be paid in case of a breach of the conditions there of may, notwithstanding any thing in S. 74 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, be recovered from him in case of such breach as if it were an arrear of land revenue.

COMMENTS

This section is similar to S. 85 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927.
