

4th of July, 2002 Ulaanbaatar

Law of Mongolia

On Amendment and Alteration to the Law on Energy

Article.1. To add a phrase “the boundaries of ownership of the energy transmission network” after the phrase “terms of payment” in the article 28.2 of the Law on Energy.

Article.2. To add a new clause #12 in the article 30.1 of the Energy Law:

“ 30.1.12. A consumer shall be liable for a necessary repair and maintenance in case of any breakage or damage occurred in the energy lines, network and equipment. The Supplier has a right to require the expense spent after completing the repair and maintenance, if that consumer does not take any measures to repair the breakage or damage.”

Article.3. To replace the phrase “article #226 of the Civil Code” to “Civil Code” in the article 28.1 and “to ensure the safety...” to “to be fully responsible for the safety, maintenance and guarantee...” in the article 30.1.8 of the Law on Energy.

Article 4. To remove the phrases “article 228 of the Civil Code” from the article 29.1 and “in addition to those specified in the article 227 of the Civil Code” from the article 30.1 of the Energy Law.

Article 5. To comply this Law since the Civil Code approved in October 1st, 2002 takes in effect.

Chairman of the State Ikh Khural of Mongolia: S.Tomor-Ochir