When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a public unit trust or a group investment fund that derives category A income—

Method 2

- (4) Method 2 requires the trust or fund to make a calculation for the notional winding up of the trust or fund by taking the following steps:

Opening balance

- (a) they have paid provisional tax of more than $5,000 on or before—
 - (i) the date of instalment F for the corresponding income year; or
 - (ii) the final instalment date in a transitional year; and
 - (b) they have, on the day on which the first payment of provisional tax is made for the tax year, a reasonable expectation that they are liable to pay provisional tax for the tax year, other than by this election.

Exclusion

- (2) This section does not apply to a person described in section RC 3(2).

Defined in this Act: corresponding income year, final instalment, instalment date, pay, provisional tax, return of income, tax year, transitional year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s MB 3

Section RC 4(1)(a): amended, on 1 April 2020, by section 22(1) (and see section 22(2) for application) of the COVID-19 Response (Taxation and Social Assistance Urgent Measures) Act 2020 (2020 No 8).

Calculating provisional tax liability

RC 5 Methods for calculating provisional tax liability

Choice of method

- (1) A person liable to pay provisional tax must calculate the amount payable for a tax year using 1 of the methods described in subsections (2) to (7).

Standard method: 5% uplift

- (2) Under the standard method, the amount of provisional tax payable for the tax year is 105% of the person's residual income tax for the preceding tax year, determined under section RC 6. Subsection (3) overrides this subsection.

Standard method: 10% uplift

- (3) Despite subsection (2), the amount of provisional tax payable for the tax year is 110% of the person's residual income tax for the tax year before the preceding tax year if—
- (a) they are required to provide a return of income for the preceding tax year; and
 - (b) the return is not due on or before the date on which the first payment of provisional tax for the tax year is required through the application of section 37 of the Tax Administration Act 1994, or an extension granted under that section; and
 - (c) they have not provided the return on or before that date; and
 - (d) the date is not the date of instalment F for the corresponding income year.

Relationships and modification of standard method

- (4) Subsections (5) to (7) override subsection (3). Sections RC 10(5), RZ 3 (Standard method: 2010–11 to 2012–13 income years) and RZ 5D (Standard method or GST method: transition for Maori authorities) modify subsections (2) and (3).

Truncation

- (4B) An amount calculated under subsection (2) or (3) is truncated to whole dollars, for example $10.98 equals $10.

Estimation method

- (5) The person may estimate their provisional tax liability for the tax year under section RC 7.

AIM method

- (5B) A person must use the AIM method under section RC 7B to determine their provisional tax liability for the tax year (the current tax year), other than a transitional year, if the person—
- (a) has chosen to either—
 - (i) use the AIM method for the current tax year on or before their first instalment date under the AIM method; or
 - (ii) change part-year to use the AIM method for their remaining instalment dates under the AIM method for the current tax year, and they use either the standard method or GST ratio method at the beginning of the current tax year and, before changing to use the AIM method, they met all of their provisional tax obligations under the relevant method, from the beginning of the current tax year; and
 - (b) has an AIM-capable accounting system that is up-to-date for relevant tax law for the corresponding income year and for determinations under section 91AAX of the Tax Administration Act 1994 for the corresponding income year; and
 - (c) has—
 - (i) annual gross income of $5,000,000 or less for the tax year before the current tax year;
 - (ii) annual gross income of $5,000,000 or less for the first tax year for which the person used the AIM method, and the Commissioner has approved under section 15Z of the Tax Administration Act 1994 the person's continued use of an AIM-capable accounting system for tax years in which the person has annual gross income of more than $5,000,000;
 - (iii) a large business AIM-capable system; and
 - (d) has not been liable, in 1 of the last 4 tax years before the current tax year, for a shortfall penalty in relation to their use of the AIM method and an approved AIM provider's AIM-capable accounting system; and
 - (e) has not returned tax liabilities using the AIM method with the sole purpose or effect of consistently, year-on-year, reducing their tax liabilities below the amounts of reasonably accurate assessments; and
 - (f) is not a member of a class of taxpayers that the Commissioner has determined, under section 91AAY of the Tax Administration Act 1994, must not use the AIM method; and

- (g) for the current tax year, has not failed more than twice to give the Commissioner information in the prescribed form, as provided by section 45 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

AIM method: exception

- (5C) A person who does not meet the requirements of subsection (5B) can not use the AIM method for the current tax year. If they can not use the AIM method for the current year because part-way through the corresponding income year the person stops meeting the requirements of subsection (5B), the person is treated as using the estimation method for the whole of the current tax year.

GST ratio method

- (6) A person who is eligible under section RC 16 and not excluded by section RC 17 may choose to use a goods and services tax (GST) ratio under section RC 8 to determine their provisional tax liability for the tax year.

Commissioner's determination

- (7) If the Commissioner determines a person's provisional tax liability under section 119 of the Tax Administration Act 1994, the amount or liability is that last determined by the Commissioner and notified to the person at least 30 days before the instalment date. The 30-day requirement does not apply in a case to which section 119(1)(d) of that Act applies (which relates to an estimate of residual income tax that is not fair and reasonable).

Life insurance business

- (8) A person who carries on a business of providing life insurance and who is liable for income tax under the rules for life insurers, must at the time they determine their provisional tax liability provide the Commissioner with details of the calculation of that liability. In particular, they must detail the extent to which the amount of provisional tax relates to the policyholder base.

Defined in this Act: AIM-capable accounting system, amount, annual gross income, business, Commissioner, corresponding income year, GST ratio, income tax, instalment date, large business AIM-capable system, life insurance, notify, pay, policyholder base, provisional tax, residual income tax, return of income, shortfall penalty, tax year, taxpayer, transitional year

RC 6 Standard method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies to a person liable to pay provisional tax for the purposes of section RC 5(2) and (3) and the calculation of the amount of provisional tax payable for a tax year under the standard method.

Assessment for preceding tax year

- (2) The person's residual income tax for a tax year is based on their assessment for the preceding tax year unless the Commissioner has sent out a notice of assessment for the tax year at least 30 days before the relevant instalment date, in which case the amount of residual income tax is based on the Commissioner's assessment for the preceding tax year.

Commissioner's assessment for preceding tax year

- (3) The person's residual income tax is based on the Commissioner's assessment for the preceding tax year, whenever the assessment is made, if—
- (a) they are required under sections 33 and 37 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 to provide a return of income for the preceding tax year but have failed to do so by the relevant instalment date; or
 - (b) they are not required under sections 33 and 37 of that Act to provide a return by the relevant instalment date, and subsections (2) and (4) do not apply.

Residual income tax for preceding tax year

- (4) The amount of provisional tax payable for a tax year is the amount of the person's residual income tax for the preceding tax year if—
- (a) they are not required to provide a return of income for the preceding tax year; or
 - (b) their residual income tax for the tax year before the preceding tax year was $5,000 or less, and they were not required to provide, and have not provided, a return of income for the tax year by the date of instalment F for the corresponding income year.

Later increased assessment

- (5) If the Commissioner's assessment of a person's income tax liability occurs after the payment date for an instalment of provisional tax and would result in an increase in the person's residual income tax for the preceding tax year, the residual income tax is treated for the purposes of the provisional tax rules as if it had not been increased.

Transitional years and consolidated groups

- (6) A person's residual income tax in a transitional year is calculated under section RC 20. For consolidated groups, the calculation is made under section RC 29.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessment, Commissioner, consolidated group, corresponding income year, income tax liability, instalment date, notice, pay, provisional tax, provisional tax rules, residual income tax, return of income, tax year, transitional year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s MB 5

Section RC 6(4)(b): amended, on 1 April 2020, by section 23(1) (and see section 23(2) for application) of the COVID-19 Response (Taxation and Social Assistance Urgent Measures) Act 2020 (2020 No 8).

RC 7 Estimation method*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies to a person who is liable to pay provisional tax under section RC 5(5) and to the calculation of the amount of their provisional tax payable for a tax year under the estimation method.

Fair and reasonable estimate

- (2) On or before an instalment date, the person may make a fair and reasonable estimate of their residual income tax for the tax year by informing the Commissioner of the estimate. The amount of provisional tax payable for a tax year is the amount of the estimated residual income tax.

Revising estimates

- (3) On or before an instalment date, the person may choose to revise an estimate made under subsection (2). The amount last estimated is the amount taken into account under section RC 5(5).

Exception for person making election under section IZ 8

- (3B) A person, including a person who otherwise does not use the estimation method in the tax year, who makes an election under section IZ 8 (Election to use net loss for 2019–20 or 2020–21 year as tax loss in preceding year), and a shareholder-employee of such a person, may make or revise an estimate made under subsection (2), for the tax year corresponding to the income year referred to in section IZ 8 as the taxable income year, before the earlier of the date on which the person files the return of income for the tax year and the date on which the return is due.

Reasonable care in making and maintaining assessment

- (4) A person who makes an estimate under subsection (2) must take reasonable care in making it, and must revise the estimate for the tax year if, at some time in the tax year, the amount estimated is no longer fair and reasonable.

Estimation higher than provisional tax payable

- (5) If a person's estimate is more than the provisional tax that is payable for the tax year, they are treated as having taken reasonable care in making the estimate.

Changing calculation method from GST ratio

- (6) If, under section RC 18(5), a person changes the way they determine the amount of provisional tax after the date of an instalment, they must estimate their residual income tax for their corresponding income year, and must pay provisional tax on whichever of the following instalment dates for the income year occur after 30 days from their last ratio instalment date:
- (a) C and F for changes to a 6-monthly GST taxable period:
 - (b) B, D, and F for other changes.

RC 7B AIM method

When this section applies

(1) This section applies to—

- (a) a person who meets the requirements of section RC 5(5B); and

- (b) the calculation of the amount of provisional tax payable for a tax year, other than a transitional year, under the AIM method.

AIM method

- (2) A person must use an AIM-capable accounting system for the calculation of provisional tax payable for a tax year.

Meaning of AIM-capable accounting system

- (3) AIM-capable accounting system means a double-entry accounting system that is an approved AIM provider's product, and uses a core software package from an approved AIM provider, if the system has the following features:
 - (a) a core software accounting package and connected packages that provide the ability to—
 - (i) generate and keep comprehensive financial accounts, including accounting income and expenditure, ledger accounts, trial balances, bank account reconciliations, and journals, on an on-demand basis, in accordance with good accounting and tax practice; and
 - (ii) calculate tax liabilities for the tax year using tax adjustments for the financial accounts, in accordance with a determination under section 91AAX of the Tax Administration Act 1994(a section 91AAX determination), and using tax rates under a section 91AAX determination; and
 - (iii) for amounts for which there is no tax adjustment under a section 91AAX determination, calculate tax liabilities for the tax year using tax rates under a section 91AAX determination, and using tax adjustments for the financial accounts that result in reasonably accurate assessments of tax liabilities for a person; and
 - (iv) recalculate all financial accounts and tax liabilities, if retrospective adjustments are required for the year to date; and
 - (v) produce reports and other information as required by the Commissioner, in formats prescribed by the Commissioner; and
 - (b) electronic communication facilities for—
 - (i) giving information in the form prescribed by the Commissioner; and
 - (ii) sending and receiving messages and notifications; and
 - (c) help documentation for end-users and their tax agents on the use of the package, with ongoing support provided by the approved AIM provider on the use of the package.

Defined in this Act: AIM-capable accounting system, approved AIM provider, Commissioner, person, provisional tax, tax agent, tax year

Section RC 7B: inserted, on 1 April 2018, by section 36(1) (and see section 36(2) for application) of the Taxation (Business Tax, Exchange of Information, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 3).

RC 8 GST ratio method

Using GST ratio

- (1) A person liable to pay provisional tax who meets the requirements of section RC 16 and is not excluded by section RC 17 may choose to use a GST ratio to determine the amount of provisional tax payable for a tax year.

Meaning of GST ratio

- (2) The person's GST ratio is the percentage figure that is obtained by dividing their residual income tax for the preceding tax year by their total taxable supplies for the corresponding income year. The amount of residual income tax and the amount of total taxable supplies are called base amounts for the purposes of this section.

When amounts based on tax year before preceding tax year

- (3) If a base amount for the preceding tax year or corresponding income year is not known, the GST ratio is the percentage based on the assessment for the tax year and corresponding income year that are just before the preceding tax year and corresponding income year.

When no assessment for tax year before preceding tax year

- (3B) Subsection (3) does not apply and the GST ratio is the percentage based on the assessments of the base amounts for the year that is 2 years before the preceding tax year if—
- (a) for the year before the preceding tax year—
 - (i) an assessment of a base amount has not been made and the absence of an assessment arises because of an extension of time for filing a return for the year, or a period in the year;
 - (ii) an assessment of a base amount is the subject of a dispute or challenge under the Tax Administration Act 1994;
 - (iii) the year is a transitional year; and
 - (b) for the year that is 2 years before the preceding tax year—
 - (i) the base amounts have been assessed; and
 - (ii) the circumstances in paragraph (a)(ii) and (iii) do not exist.

Commissioner's calculation

- (4) The Commissioner must calculate a person's GST ratio, informing them by—
- (a) including the percentage figure on the person's preprinted GST return form; or
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) some other means.

Adjustment to GST ratio

- (5) The Commissioner must adjust a person's GST ratio if a base amount is revised through, among other reasons,—
- (a) an assessment or an amended assessment of the person's income tax return for the preceding tax year; or
 - (b) a change in the value of the total taxable supplies for the corresponding income year; or
 - (c) the disposal of an asset to which section RC 19 applies.

New GST ratio

- (6) When subsection (5) applies, the Commissioner must inform the person of the new GST ratio. The new ratio applies in relation to the relevant instalment dates that occur 30 days after the date on which the person is informed.

Transitional years

- (7) If a person has paid instalments of provisional tax in a transitional year, for the tax year that follows the transitional year, for the purposes of this section and section RC 11, they must—
- (a) ignore the transitional year when determining their residual income tax or total taxable supplies; and
 - (b) base their determination of residual income tax and total taxable supplies on the tax year preceding the transitional year.

When no assessment for tax year before preceding tax year

- (7B) Subsection (7) does not apply and the GST ratio is the percentage based on the assessments of the base amounts for the year that is 2 years before the transitional year if—
- (a) for the year before the transitional year—
 - (i) an assessment of a base amount has not been made and the absence of an assessment arises because of an extension of time for filing a return for the year, or a period in the year;
 - (ii) an assessment of a base amount is the subject of a dispute or challenge under the Tax Administration Act 1994;
 - (iii) the year is a transitional year; and
 - (b) for the year that is 2 years before the transitional year—
 - (i) the base amounts have been assessed; and
 - (ii) the circumstances in paragraph (a)(ii) and (iii) do not exist.

Total taxable supplies

- (8) In subsections (2), (5), and (7), and in sections RC 11, RC 19, and RC 31, total taxable supplies, for a person and a period, means the amount that is the total value of taxable supplies by the person for the period. The amount includes the GST charged on the supplies.

Modification

- (9) Sections RZ 4 (GST ratio method: 2010–11 to 2013–14 income years) and RZ 5D (Standard method or GST method: transition for Maori authorities) modify this section.

Instalments of provisional tax

RC 9 Provisional tax payable in instalments

Who this section applies to

- (1) This section applies to a person who is liable to pay provisional tax.

General principle

- (2) For a person liable to pay provisional tax using the standard and estimation methods, the amount of the provisional tax liability must be spread evenly over the applicable number of instalments, so that equal amounts are paid on each instalment date. If the full amount is not divisible into exactly equal instalments, the final instalment carries the difference.

Provisional tax payable in 3 instalments

- (3) A person pays provisional tax in 3 instalments on the interest instalment dates for the tax year in the months set out in schedule 3, part A, columns B, D, and F (Payment of provisional tax and terminal tax) for the person's corresponding income year. The amount of each instalment is calculated under section RC 10. Subsection (4) overrides this subsection.

Exclusions

- (4) Subsection (3) does not apply—
- (a) to a person liable to pay provisional tax who—
 - (i) pays GST on a 6-monthly basis; or
 - (ii) uses a GST ratio to determine the amount of provisional tax payable, or who changes their calculation method under section RC 18(5); or
 - (iii) changes the cycle of their taxable periods under section 15C of the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985:
 - (b) to a person with an initial provisional tax liability who—
 - (i) pays GST on a 6-monthly basis; or
 - (ii) pays GST on a monthly or 2-monthly basis, and starts a taxable activity within 30 days before the date of instalment B in their corresponding income year:
 - (bb) to a person that uses the AIM method for the tax year:
 - (c) to a person liable to pay provisional tax who has not provided a return of income for the preceding tax year, and whose residual income tax for the tax year before the preceding tax year was $5,000 or less:
 - (d) in a transitional year.

AIM method

- (4B) A person liable to pay provisional tax who uses the AIM method for the current tax year must pay provisional tax—
- (a) if the person is not registered for GST, or has a 6-month taxable period under section 15 of the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985, on the 6 instalment dates in the months set out in schedule 3, part A, columns A, B, C, D, E, and F for their balance date. The amount of each instalment is provided by section RC 10B; or
 - (b) if the person has a 2-month taxable period under section 15 of the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985, on the group of 6 instalment dates in the months set out in either schedule 3, part A, columns A, B, C, D, E, and F or in schedule 3, part A, columns A1, B1, C1, D1, E1, and F1 that corresponds to the due dates for their GST returns. The amount of each instalment is provided by section RC 10B; or
 - (c) if the person has a 1-month taxable period under section 15 of the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985, on the 12 instalment dates in the months set out in schedule 3, part A, columns A to F1 for their corresponding income year. The amount of each instalment is provided by section RC 10B.

Part-year change into AIM

- (4C) A person who chooses to change to the AIM method under section RC 5(5B)(a)(ii) must use the relevant remaining instalment dates for them under the AIM method. The amount of each relevant instalment is calculated under section RC 10B.

Provisional tax when GST paid on 6-monthly basis

- (5) A person liable to pay provisional tax who pays GST on a 6-monthly basis must pay provisional tax on the 2 interest instalment dates for the tax year in the months set out in schedule 3, part A, columns C and F for their corresponding income year. This subsection applies to a person with an initial provisional tax liability other than 1 who pays GST on a 6-monthly basis and starts a taxable activity within 30 days before the date of instalment C.

Provisional tax determined using GST ratio

- (6) A person liable to pay provisional tax who uses a GST ratio to determine the amount of provisional tax payable for a tax year, must pay provisional tax on the 6 ratio instalment dates in the months set out in schedule 3, part A, columns A, B, C, D, E, and F for their corresponding income year. The amount of each instalment is calculated under section RC 11.

Changing calculation method

- (7) A person who is unable or who decides not to use a GST ratio, changing their calculation method under section RC 18, must pay the provisional tax payable for the tax year on the relevant instalment dates under the replacement method. The amount of each instalment is calculated under section RC 10.

Changing cycle of taxable periods

- (8) A person who changes the cycle of their taxable periods under section 15C of the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985 must pay provisional tax for the tax year on the instalment dates set out in section RC 27 after the change in taxable period takes effect. The amount of each instalment is calculated under section RC 10.

Persons with initial provisional tax liability

- (9) A person with an initial provisional tax liability who starts a taxable activity in a tax year is liable to pay interest calculated under section 120KC of the Tax Administration Act 1994 as if they were liable to pay provisional tax for the tax year—
- (a) in 3 instalments under subsection (3) if they start a taxable activity at some time in the period that starts at the beginning of the corresponding income year and ends 30 days before the date of instalment B;
 - (b) in 2 instalments—
 - (i) in a case to which section RC 13 applies; or

- (ii) if they pay GST on a 6-monthly basis and start a taxable activity at some time in the period that starts at the beginning of the corresponding income year and ends 30 days before the date of instalment C:

- (c) in 1 instalment in a case to which section RC 14 applies.

Extension of time for return

- (10) A person who has not provided a return of income for a preceding tax year and whose residual income tax for the tax year before the preceding tax year was $5,000 or less must pay provisional tax for the tax year on the instalment dates set out in section RC 13 or RC 14, as applicable.

Transitional years

- (11) In a transitional year, provisional tax is payable as set out in section RC 21 and schedule 3, part B. The amount of each instalment is calculated under sections RC 22 to RC 24.

Voluntary payments

- (12) A person liable to pay provisional tax may pay an instalment under section RC 12 at any time.

Truncation

- (13) An instalment calculated under this section is truncated to whole dollars, for example $10.98 equals $10.

RC 10 Calculating amount of instalment under standard and estimation methods

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of—
- (a) section RC 5(2), (3), and (5) (which relates to the calculation of a provisional tax liability); and
 - (b) section RC 9(3) and (5) (which relates to payment of instalments); and
 - (c) sections RC 13 and RC 14 (which relate to persons with an initial provisional tax liability and those with an extension of time for providing a return); and
 - (d) sections RC 26 and RC 27 (which relate to changes in taxable periods).

Calculation

- (2) The amount of an instalment of provisional tax is calculated using the formula—
- $$\begin{aligned} & (\text{residual income tax} \times \text{instalment number} \div \text{total instalments}) \\ & \quad - \text{provisional tax.} \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) residual income tax is a person's residual income tax, as applicable—
 - (i) for the preceding tax year, uplifted by 5% (modified as applicable by sections RZ 5 (Calculating amounts under standard method: 2010–11 to 2012–13 income years) and RZ 5D (Standard method or GST method: transition for Maori authorities)); or
 - (ii) for the tax year before the preceding tax year, uplifted by 10% (modified as applicable by sections RZ 5 and RZ 5D); or
 - (iii) the amount estimated by them:
 - (b) instalment number is the number of the instalment for the tax year, whether first, second, or third:
 - (c) total instalments is the total number of instalments for the tax year:
 - (d) provisional tax is the amount of a person's provisional tax liabilities for the tax year to date.

Instalment amounts after change in balance date or taxable period

- (4) If a change occurs to the balance date or cycle of a person's taxable periods, the calculation of the amount of an instalment is made under this section, applying the updated figures to the items in the formula.

Some standard method taxpayers

- (5) A person who uses the standard method may, despite subsection (2), choose that the amount of their final instalment of provisional tax of a tax year is calculated using the following formula, if their expected RIT under subsection (6)(a) is $60,000 or more—

expected RIT – tax.

Definition of items in formula

- (6) In the formula,—
- (a) expected RIT is the person's expectation of their residual income tax for the tax year:
 - (b) tax is the amount of a person's provisional tax liabilities for the tax year to date.

Truncation

- (7) An instalment calculated under this section is truncated to whole dollars, for example $10.98 equals $10.

RC 10B Calculating amount of instalment for periods using AIM method

Calculating amount for full-year AIM method

- (1) For a person who uses the AIM method, the amount of provisional tax payable on an instalment date for a tax year is the amount calculated using an AIM-capable accounting system for the 2-monthly or monthly period given by schedule 3, part AB (Payment of provisional tax and terminal tax) for the applicable instalment date.

Calculating amount when part-year change into AIM method

- (2) For a person who chooses to change to the AIM method under section RC 5(5B)(a)(ii), the amount of provisional tax payable on a remaining instalment date for a tax year is given by subsection (1), except for the first remaining instalment date. Subsection (3) provides the calculation for the first remaining instalment date.

Calculating when part-year change into AIM method: first remaining instalment

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), the amount of provisional tax payable for the first remaining instalment date is the total amount, year to date including the first remaining instalment date, that would have been payable if the person had used the AIM method from the beginning of the tax year, less the amount of provisional tax the person has paid, before the change, under the relevant non-AIM method for the tax year.

Defined in this Act: AIM-capable accounting system, instalment date, person, provisional tax

When election applies

- (4) A person's election under section RC 15 to use a GST ratio applies for the tax year for which the election is made and in later tax years, unless the person changes their calculation method under section RC 18.

RC 18 Changing calculation method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies if, after having chosen to use a GST ratio for a tax year, a person liable to pay provisional tax either—
- (a) chooses another way to calculate the amount of provisional tax payable for the tax year; or
 - (b) is required under section RC 17(1) or (2) to stop using a GST ratio for the corresponding income year.

Informing Commissioner of decision to change

- (2) The person must inform the Commissioner of their decision under subsection (1)(a). Subsection (4) or (5) then applies for the remaining instalments of provisional tax for the tax year.

Date on which use of GST ratio stopped

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b), the date on which the person stops using a GST ratio is, as applicable,—
- (a) the date their GST registration ends; or
 - (b) the date of the amended assessment of their income tax liability or GST liability for the preceding tax year; or
 - (bb) the date the person's return of income referred to in section RC 17(1)(bb) is received by the Commissioner; or
 - (c) the effective date of a change in taxable period; or

- (d) the last day of the period in which a return is liable to be provided under the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985.

Changing method before date of instalment A

- (4) If the person is unable or decides not to use a GST ratio before the date of instalment A, and section RC 3(3) does not apply, they may choose to determine the amount of provisional tax payable under section RC 5(2), (3) or (5). The person is treated as never having chosen to use the GST ratio method and, for the purposes of section 120KE(5) of the Tax Administration Act 1994, as never having changed the way they determine an amount of provisional tax under this section.

Changing method after instalment date

- (5) If the person is unable or decides not to use the GST ratio after an instalment date, and section RC 3(3) does not apply, they must determine the amount of provisional tax payable on instalment for the remainder of the income year under section RC 5(5) using the estimation method. The person must inform the Commissioner of the estimate.

Date of application when method changed

- (6) If the person changes their calculation method under subsection (4) or (5), and the change is not required by section RC 17(1)(bb), the date on which the change applies may be a future date agreed between the person and the Commissioner.

Other consequences of changing method

- (7) For the purposes of this section,—
 - (a) the number of instalments and the instalment dates remaining for an income year depend on—
 - (i) the requirements of the method chosen by the person when they stop using the GST ratio; and
 - (ii) the cycle of taxable periods chosen by the person, being either a monthly or 2-monthly basis:
 - (b) a person may change from using a GST ratio to a 6-monthly cycle of taxable periods only if—
 - (i) the requirements of section 15C of the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985 are met; and
 - (ii) their 6-month taxable period is aligned with their balance date under section 15B of the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985:

- (c) section 120KE(5) to (7) of the Tax Administration Act 1994 applies in deciding whether use of money interest is payable in relation to instalments under the new method.

Defined in this Act: amount of tax, pay, PAYE income payment

Compare: 2004 No 35 s NC 6(1A), (3)

RD 10 Amounts of tax for PAYE income payments

PAYE income payments other than schedular payments

- (1) The amount of tax for a PAYE income payment that a person must withhold and pay to the Commissioner under section RA 5 (Tax obligations for employment-related taxes) is the relevant amount under schedule 2 (Basic tax rates for PAYE income payments). Subsections (2), (2B), (2C), (2D), and (3) and sections RD 12 to RD 20 override this subsection.

Choosing rate for extra pay

- (2) An employee who notifies their employer of their tax code may choose to have the amount of tax for an extra pay fixed as follows:
- (a) for an employee whose taxable income for the income year is expected to be not more than $48,000, the rate set out in schedule 2, part B, table 1, row 3; or
 - (b) for an employee whose taxable income for the income year is expected to be not more than $70,000, the rate set out in schedule 2, part B, table 1, row 4; or

Rates for extra pays: non-resident seasonal workers

- (2C) The amount of tax for an extra pay that is paid to a non-resident seasonal worker is calculated at the rate set out in schedule 2, part B, table 1, row 1 (Basic tax rates for PAYE income payments). This rate applies for both a worker who has notified their employer under section 24C of the Tax Administration Act 1994 of their tax code under schedule 2, part A, clause 8, and a worker to whom schedule 5, part B, clause 3 of that Act applies. This subsection overrides subsection (2).

Rates for extra pays: non-notified tax codes

- (2D) The amount of tax for an extra pay that is paid to an employee who has not notified their employer of their tax code is calculated at the rate set out in schedule 2, part B, table 1, row 7.

Schedular payments

- (3) The amount of tax for a schedular payment is determined—
- (a) under section RD 10B; and
 - (b) on the basis of the gross amount of the payment, other than GST, whether—
 - (i) some or all of the payment is income; and
 - (ii) the full income tax liability lies with the person receiving the payment, or lies partly with an employee or subcontractor of the person.

- (4) In a return relating to the vehicle for a period beginning 5 years or more after the start of the period of the first return, the person may calculate the value of the benefit using either of the valuation methods set out in schedule 5.

Cost price valuation method

- (5) Despite subsections (3) and (4), the person must apply schedule 5, clause 1 or 2, using the cost price valuation method if—
 - (a) the vehicle is owned, leased, or rented by the employer or an associated person; and

RD 29 Private use of motor vehicle: formulas

What this section does

- (1) This section sets out the formulas for calculating the value of the benefit that an employer provides to an employee by making a motor vehicle available for their private use.

Quarterly payment

- (2) If FBT is paid quarterly, the value of the benefit is calculated using the formula—

$$\text{days} \times \text{schedule 5 amount} \div 90.$$

Annual payment

- (3) If FBT is paid on an annual basis, the value of the benefit is the total of the amounts calculated under subsection (2) for the 4 quarters in the applicable tax year.

Payment by income year

- (4) If FBT is paid on an income year basis, the value of the benefit is calculated using the formula—

$$\text{days} \times \text{schedule 5 amount} \div 365.$$

Definition of items in formulas

- (5) In the formula,—
- (a) in subsection (2), days refers to the number of days in the quarter on which the vehicle is made available for private use, reduced by the number of days on which the vehicle was a work-related vehicle, or 90, whichever is less:
 - (b) in subsection (4), days refers to the number of days in the income year on which the vehicle is made available for private use, reduced by the number of days on which the vehicle was a work-related vehicle:
 - (c) in subsections (2) and (4), schedule 5 amount refers to the amount calculated under schedule 5 (Fringe benefit values for motor vehicles) as the value of the benefit that would have been received for unlimited private use of the vehicle in that quarter or income year, as applicable.

Test period

- (6) To calculate the value of the benefit, an employer may choose to use a test period under section RD 31 to establish private use.

Defined in this Act: amount, employee, employer, FBT, income year, motor vehicle, private use, quarter, tax year, work-related vehicle

Compare: 2004 No 35 s ND 1A(2)–(6)

RD 30 Private use of motor vehicle: 24-hour period

Meaning of day

- (2) In section RD 29(5)(a) and (b), in relation to a motor vehicle and the item days in the formulas, a day is—

- (a) a 24-hour period starting from a time in a day that a person who owns or leases the vehicle chooses; or
- (b) a 24-hour period starting at midnight if paragraph (a) does not apply.

Choosing starting point and notifying Commissioner

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(a), the person must—
 - (a) choose a starting point for the day that is a whole number of an hour after midnight; and
 - (b) notify the Commissioner of their election when filing the next return relating to the vehicle.

Elections

- (4) An election under subsection (2)(a)—
 - (a) is effective from the start of the quarter, income year, or tax year to which a return relates; and
 - (b) applies to all vehicles in relation to which the person files a return.

Hour applying for 2 income years

- (5) If the person chooses under subsection (3)(a) a particular hour in the 24-hour period as the starting point of the day, that hour continues to apply to the use of the vehicle from the start of the relevant quarter, income year, or tax year, as applicable, for a minimum period of 2 income years.

When circumstances change

- (6) An employer may apply to the Commissioner to amend the starting point of the 24-hour period, or to treat the election as revoked, if the employer's circumstances have changed in a way that—
 - (a) is more than minor; and
 - (b) makes the starting point no longer relevant to the employer's business.

RD 31 Motor vehicle test period

Recording details for test period

- (1) To establish the value of the benefit provided through a motor vehicle being made available to an employee for their private use, an employer may choose to record the details of the use of the vehicle by the employee for a test period.

Number used in calculations

- (2) The number of days on which a vehicle is available for an employee's private use that is ascertained in the test period is the number used in the calculation in section RD 29(2). For the calculation in section RD 29(4), the relevant number is the number of days ascertained in the test period multiplied by 4.

Quarter or 3 months for test period

- (3) If FBT is paid quarterly or annually, the test period is a quarter. If FBT is paid on an income year basis, the test period is 3 consecutive months of an income year.

Period showing pattern of use

- (4) The employer must—
- (a) choose a test period that shows, or is likely to show, a pattern of use of the motor vehicle by the employee that fairly represents the use of the vehicle by the employee over the whole of the applicable term; and
 - (b) keep a record of the test period, including accurate details of the days in the period on which the vehicle is available for the employee's private use.

Work-related vehicles

- (5) In subsection (4), a day on which the vehicle is a work-related vehicle is treated as a day on which the vehicle is not available for private use.

Term of 3 years

- (6) The number of days of availability for private use ascertained in the test period applies for a term of 3 years. The term starts, as applicable, as follows:
- (a) if FBT is paid quarterly, on the first day of the test period;
 - (b) if FBT is paid on an annual basis, on the first day of the tax year in which the test period occurs;
 - (c) if FBT is paid on an income year basis, on the first day of the income year in which the test period occurs.

Reduction of term

- (7) The term referred to in subsection (6) is reduced if the number of days of actual private use of the motor vehicle is 20%, or more than 20%, higher than the number ascertained in the test period. In this case, the term ends on the last day of the applicable quarter, year, or income year. If the employer chooses to start another test period, the existing term ends just before the start of the new term.

When test period no longer representative

- (8) If the Commissioner considers that the result ascertained in the test period does not, or does no longer, fairly represent the actual private use of the motor vehicle by the employee, the Commissioner may notify the employer that the term will end on a particular date. Following notification, the employer must not use that result again.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, employee, employer, FBT, income year, motor vehicle, notify, private use, quarter, tax year, work-related vehicle

Compare: 2004 No 35 s ND 1B(1)–(6)

RD 32 Replacement motor vehicles

For the purposes of section RD 31, a replacement motor vehicle is treated in the same way as the vehicle it replaces if the result ascertained in the test period is likely to be fairly representative of the average availability for the private use of the vehicle during the term.

Defined in this Act: motor vehicle, private use

Compare: 2004 No 35 s ND 1B(7)

RD 33 Subsidised transport

Percentage of highest public fare

- (1) The value of a benefit that an employer provides to their employee in subsidised transport is 25% of the highest fare the employer charges the public for the equivalent transport in terms of class, extent, and occasion. This subsection is overridden by subsection (2).

When benefit provided under arrangement

- (2) Despite section CX 2(2) (Meaning of fringe benefit), if the fringe benefit is provided under an arrangement with a third person, the value of the benefit is determined under subsection (3).

Percentage or actual payment

- (3) If a third person provides the employee with subsidised transport under an arrangement with their employer, the value of the benefit is the greatest of—
- (a) 25% of the highest fare the employer charges the public for the equivalent transport in terms of class, extent, and occasion; and
 - (b) 25% of the highest fare the third person charges the public for the equivalent transport in terms of class, extent, and occasion, if the third person is a company in the same group of companies as the employer; and
 - (c) the amount that the employer has paid or is liable to pay the person for the benefit provided.

- (4) In this section, for a registered person who may claim input tax for subsidised transport, amount means the GST-inclusive amount.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, company, employee, employer, fringe benefit, group of companies, GST, input tax, pay, subsidised transport

Amount of interest or amount under financial arrangement

- (2) The value of the benefit in a period is the amount by which the prescribed interest on the loan is more than—
- (a) the amount of interest that accrued on the loan in the period; or
 - (b) when the loan is a financial arrangement and it is appropriate for the nature of the loan, the income that would have accrued to the employer's benefit in the period as calculated under the yield to maturity method.

Meaning of prescribed interest

- (3) For the purposes of this section, prescribed interest means,—
- (a) except as provided in paragraph (b), the amount of interest that would have accrued on the loan during the quarter or tax year had the interest been calculated on the daily balance of that loan at the prescribed rate of interest:
 - (b) for loans made on or before 31 March 1985, the interest on which is not subject to review, the amount of interest that would have accrued on the loan during the quarter or tax year had the interest been calculated on the daily balance of the loan at the non-concessionary rate of interest for—
 - (i) the tax year in which the agreement to make the loan was signed; or
 - (ii) if the agreement was not in writing, the year in which the loan was agreed to by all parties.

Defined in this Act: amount, employee, employer, employment-related loan, financial arrangement, income, interest, non-concessionary rate of interest, prescribed interest, quarter, tax year

 - (b) the employer is in a group of companies that has a member which is in the business of lending money to the public.

- (a) the amount of interest that accrued on the loan in the period; or
- (b) when the loan is a financial arrangement and it is appropriate having regard to the nature of the loan, the income that would have accrued to the employer's benefit in the period as calculated under the yield to maturity method.

Using method for 2 income years

- (3) Having made an election under subsection (1), the employer must use the method for the income year to which the election relates and for the next income year.

Notifying Commissioner of change to method

- (4) An employer may not change the method of calculating the value of the benefit for an income year, other than from a method given by a paragraph of subsection (5) to the method given by the other paragraph of subsection (5), unless the employer notifies the Commissioner of the proposed change at least 1 year before the start of the income year in which the change is to occur.

Effectiveness of election in some cases

- (4B) Despite subsections (3) and (4), the method chosen by an employer described in subsection (1)(b) takes effect for the first quarter beginning after the Commissioner receives the election, if the employer—
 - (a) is not in the business of lending money; and
 - (b) does not pay FBT on an income year basis under section RD 60; and
 - (c) does not pay FBT on an annual basis under section RD 61; and

Market interest

- (5) In this section, market interest means the amount of interest calculated at the rate of interest that—
 - (a) would apply to a borrower belonging to a group of persons to whom a loan of the kind provided to the employee is offered when—
 - (i) the group has a comparable credit risk to the group to which the employee belongs; and
 - (ii) membership of the group arises from a factor or factors that do not include a connection between a member and the employer; and

- (iii) the group is sufficient in number to ensure a transaction on an arm's length basis; or
- (b) is the lowest rate of interest for a loan, of the kind provided to the employee, that is provided by the lender—

 - (ii) in the ordinary course of business; and
 - (iii) during the quarter (the loan quarter) in which the loan is provided to the employee, or during the preceding quarter if calculating the rate for the loan quarter is impracticable.

RD 55 Private use of motor vehicle: taxable value in cases of part ownership

If a fringe benefit is provided by making available a motor vehicle to an employee for their private use, and the vehicle is owned in part by the employee (or, if section GB 32 (Benefits provided to employee's associates) applies, a person associated with the employee), the taxable value of the fringe benefit is determined under section RD 56 or RD 57.

Defined in this Act: associated person, employee, fringe benefit, motor vehicle, private use

Compare: 2004 No 35 s ND 1T

RD 56 Private use of motor vehicle: when schedular value not used

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when the employer has not valued the motor vehicle using schedule 5, clause 9 (Fringe benefit values for motor vehicles).

Reduction

- (2) In the calculation of the taxable value of the fringe benefit, the value of the benefit determined under sections RD 28 to RD 30 is reduced by an amount that is the applicable percentage of the cost (determined including GST under schedule 5, clause 8(a)) of the motor vehicle to the employee or the associated person as follows:

- (a) if FBT is paid quarterly, 2.5%;
- (b) if FBT is paid on an annual basis, 2.5% for each quarter in which the vehicle was part-owned by the employee or the associated person;
- (c) if FBT is paid on an income year basis, 10%.

When period longer or shorter than income year

- (3) In subsection (2)(c) and section RD 57(2)(c) and (3), if the period for which the employer accounts for FBT differs from a normal income year for the reasons described in subsection (4), the amount by which the taxable value of the fringe benefit is reduced is a percentage of the cost (determined including GST under schedule 5, clause 8(a)) of the motor vehicle to the employer or the associated person equal to the amount calculated using the formula—

$$10\% \times \text{number of days in period} \div 365.$$

Reasons for difference

- (4) The period for which the employer has accounted may be longer or shorter than the normal income year because the employer has either—
 - (a) started or ceased business during that income year; or
 - (b) chosen, with the agreement of the Commissioner, to provide a fringe benefit return for the income year ending with the date of the annual balance of their accounts.

When vehicle owned less than whole year

- (5) If an employee has not been part-owner of the motor vehicle for the whole of the income year, or the period referred to in subsection (4), a reduction under this section is reduced by the proportion of the number of days of the income year or period for which the employee was not a part-owner to the total number of days of that income year or period.

Reduction

- (2) In the calculation of the taxable value of the fringe benefit, the value of the benefit determined under sections RD 28 to RD 30 is reduced by an amount that is the applicable percentage of the cost, determined excluding GST, under schedule 5, clause 6(a) in the following way:

- (a) when FBT is paid quarterly, by a percentage calculated using the formula—

$$2.5 + (2.5 \times \text{schedule 5 rate}):$$

- (b) when FBT is paid on an annual basis, by a percentage for each quarter in which the vehicle was part-owned by the employee or associated person calculated using the formula—

$$2.5 + (2.5 \times \text{schedule 5 rate}):$$

- (c) when FBT is paid on an income year basis, by a percentage calculated using the formula—

$$10 + (10 \times \text{schedule 5 rate}).$$

Schedule 5 rate

- (3) In the formulas, schedule 5 rate is the rate of GST specified in schedule 5, clause 10(b) to (e) for the employer and the relevant quarter and relevant income year, as applicable.

RF 2 Non-resident passive income

Interest, certain dividends, and royalties

(1) Non-resident passive income means income having a source in New Zealand that a non-resident derives and that consists of—

- (a) a dividend other than an investment society dividend:
- (b) a royalty:
- (c) an investment society dividend when the non-resident is not engaged in business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand:
- (d) interest, other than interest derived in the circumstances set out in subsection (2B):
- (e) non-resident financial arrangement income.

Inclusion: Capital value increase under inflation-indexed instruments

(1B) Non-resident passive income includes an amount, arising at the time of a relevant coupon payment (the current coupon payment) equal to the amount given by the formula in section RE 18B(4) (Capital value increase under inflation-indexed instruments: RWT cap) in relation to the current coupon payment, if that current coupon payment is—

- (a) non-resident passive income under subsection (1); and
- (b) in relation to an inflation-indexed instrument.

Exclusions

- (2) The following amounts derived by a non-resident are excluded from non-resident passive income:
- (a) an amount of exempt income:
 - (b) interest arising because section EI 2 (Interest from inflation-indexed instruments) applies to an inflation-indexed instrument:
 - (c) an amount of excluded income under sections CX 56B and CX 56C (which relate to attributed PIE income), as applicable:
 - (d) an amount derived by a trustee of a trust after the effective date of an election under section HC 33(1) (Choosing to satisfy income tax liability of trustee) for the trust.

Interest exceptions

- (2B) Subsection (1)(d) does not include interest derived from money lent by a non-resident—
- (a) for the purposes of a business they carry on in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; or
 - (b) when the non-resident is—
 - (i) a registered bank engaged in business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; and
 - (ii) not associated with the person to whom the money is lent; or
 - (c) that has given rise to non-resident financial arrangement income under section RF 12E(1).

When subsection (4) applies

- (3) Subsection (4) applies in an income year when a person derives non-resident passive income consisting of—
- (a) a dividend other than an investment society dividend:
 - (b) a royalty for the use, production, or reproduction of, or for the right to use, produce, or reproduce, a literary, dramatic, musical, or artistic work in which copyright subsists:
 - (c) interest or a royalty derived by a life insurer from a company resident in New Zealand when the interest or royalty is treated as arising as a result of the life insurer's election under section EY 49 (Non-resident life insurer becoming resident):
 - (d) interest or an investment society dividend when the person paying and the person deriving the interest or dividend are not associated persons:
 - (e) interest when the person paying the interest is a member of a New Zealand banking group.

Final withholding

- (4) If the person is a filing taxpayer, the schedular income tax liability for the corresponding tax year under section BC 7 (Income tax liability of person with schedular income) for non-resident passive income referred to in subsection (3) is determined by the amount of tax required to be withheld under this Part.

Exception: minimum amount

- (5) Despite subsection (4), if a person derives non-resident passive income consisting of interest, investment society dividends, or a royalty other than those described in subsection (3), the person's income tax liability for the corresponding tax year is the greater of—
- (a) the sum of the total non-resident withholding tax (NRWT) for which they are liable and the amount that would be their income tax liability for the tax year if they had not derived non-resident passive income in the tax year:
 - (b) the amount that would be their income tax liability in the absence of this subsection.

Company deriving minimum amount

- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5) for a company, if the total amount of non-resident passive income and other income derived by the company in the corresponding tax year is not more than $1,000, the income tax liability of the company for the tax year is the sum referred to in subsection (5)(a).

Application of financial arrangements rules

- (7) The financial arrangements rules do not apply to the calculation of an amount of non-resident passive income except to the extent to which the amount is non-resident financial arrangement income or an amount to which subpart FG (Treatment of notional loans to New Zealand branches of foreign banks) applies.

Interest payable by Commissioner

- (8) For interest payable under Part 7 of the Tax Administration Act 1994, NRWT withheld by the Commissioner is treated as paid on the date it is withheld. Section 100 and Part 9 of that Act do not apply to the Commissioner and that interest, but the other provisions of the NRWT rules do apply.

RF 2B Non-resident financial arrangement income: outline and concepts

What this section does

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections RF 2C and RF 12D to RF 12J to provide an outline of the provisions relating to the taxation of non-resident financial arrangement income and to describe the key terms used in the provisions. This section—
 - (a) operates only as an aid to understanding; and
 - (b) does not override the definition of any term used in this Act; and
 - (c) does not prevail in any case where a conflict arises between this section and another provision of this Act.

Purpose

- (2) The purpose of the rules for non-resident financial arrangement income is to ensure that the payment of NRWT on interest derived by a related-party lender is aligned with deductions for expenditure that a borrower has under the financial arrangements rules.

Key concepts

- (3) The following are the key concepts:
 - (a) non-resident financial arrangement income, which is the equivalent of interest derived by a lender, see section RF 2C;
 - (b) related-party debt which is a financial arrangement between associated persons, or persons who are regarded as associated, that provides funds to a borrower who is allowed a deduction for expenditure under the arrangement, see section RF 12H (Meaning of related-party debt):

- (c) indirect associated funding which is an arrangement involving some form of back-to-back lending, see section RF 12I (Concepts used for definition of related-party debt).

When does a lender derive non-resident financial arrangement income?

- (4) An offshore lender will derive non-resident financial arrangement income when—
 - (a) they are associated with or related to a borrower who is resident in New Zealand; and
 - (b) the funding is provided through a financial arrangement that is a related-party debt; and
 - (c) interest payments on the arrangement are deferred when compared to interest deductions by the borrower; and
 - (d) the borrower's expenditure on related-party debt is more than a de minimis amount.

How is the income calculated?

- (5) The non-resident financial arrangement income of a lender is aligned with the amount of the expenditure incurred by the borrower on related-party debt, see section RF 12D.

What are first year adjustments?

- (6) An adjustment is made for the first year in which a lender derives non-resident financial arrangement income. The lender is treated as having derived an additional amount that is sufficient to reverse the deferral described in subsection (4)(c), see section RF 12F.

How is the income taxed?

- (7) The lender's income is non-resident passive income from which NRWT must be withheld, see section RF 2.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, deduction, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, interest, non-resident financial arrangement income, non-resident passive income, NRWT, pay, related-party debt, resident in New Zealand

Section RF 2B: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 274 (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section RF 2B(1): amended, on 29 March 2018 (with effect on 30 March 2017), by section 230 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2017–18, Employment and Investment Income, and Remedial Matters) Act 2018 (2018 No 5).

Section RF 2B list of defined terms approved issuer: repealed, on 18 March 2019, by section 261 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2018–19, Modernising Tax Administration, and Remedial Matters) Act 2019 (2019 No 5).

RF 2C Meaning of non-resident financial arrangement income

When this section applies

- (1) This section, and sections RF 12D to RF 12J, apply for the purposes of the NRWT rules when—
- (a) a person (the borrower) is—
 - (i) resident in New Zealand; or
 - (ii) a non-resident carrying on a business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; and
 - (b) the borrower is party to a financial arrangement with a non-resident (the lender) through which funding is provided to the borrower, other than funding provided by the lender through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; and
 - (c) the financial arrangement—
 - (i) gives rise to non-resident passive income under section RF 2(1)(d); or
 - (ii) would give rise to income referred to in subparagraph (i) in the absence of section RF 2(2B)(c).

Meaning of non-resident financial arrangement income

- (2) Non-resident financial arrangement income, for a financial arrangement and an income year, means an amount having a source in New Zealand that is accrued on a related-party debt and derived by a lender in the income year when—
- (a) non-resident financial arrangement income was derived in relation to the arrangement by a lender in an earlier income year; or
 - (b) the following requirements are met for the income year:
 - (i) the total expenditure incurred by the borrower on related-party debt is more than the de minimis set out in subsection (3); and
 - (ii) in relation to the financial arrangement, the deferral calculation set out in subsection (4) is less than 90%.

Related-party de minimis

- (3) The de minimis applies when the total expenditure on all related-party debt incurred in the previous income year under the financial arrangements rules by the borrower, and all companies that are in the same group of companies as the borrower, is $40,000 or less.

Deferral calculation

- (4) Subject to subsection (6), the deferral calculation referred to in subsection (2)(b)(ii) is the percentage calculated using the formula—
- $$\text{accumulated payments} \div (\text{accumulated accruals} - \text{hybrid deductions}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) In the formula,—
- (a) accumulated payments for the income year is the total interest paid in relation to the financial arrangement by the borrower for the period that—
 - (i) starts on the day on which the financial arrangement first meets the requirements for a related-party debt; and
 - (ii) ends on the NRFAI due date for the borrower's income year:
 - (b) accumulated accruals is an amount equal to the total expenditure that the borrower incurs under the arrangement when the arrangement is a related-party debt for the period that—
 - (i) starts on the day on which the financial arrangement first meets the requirements for a related-party debt; and
 - (ii) ends on the last day of the income year before the income year referred to in paragraph (a)(ii):
 - (c) hybrid deductions is an amount equal to the part of the expenditure that the borrower incurs under the arrangement in the period given by paragraph (b) that has been denied as a deduction under subpart FH (Hybrid and branch mismatches of deductions and income from multi-jurisdictional arrangements) when the expenditure is incurred and is not allowed as a deduction under the subpart in that period, on the date referred to in paragraph (b)(ii).

When calculation treated as more than 90%

- (6) For the purposes of the calculation in subsection (4), the result of the formula is treated as more than 90% if—
- (a) the item accumulated accruals is equal to the item hybrid deductions;
 - (b) the date in subsection (5)(b)(ii) occurs before the date in subsection (5)(b)(i).

NRFAI due date

- (7) The NRFAI due date, for a financial arrangement, is the due date for the payment of NRWT for the period that ends on the last day of the second month following the end of an income year.

Foreign exchange movements

- (8) For the purposes of subsections (4) and (5), the calculation of total interest and total expenditure must be made in the currency of the financial arrangement.

Choosing to disregard de minimis and deferral calculation

- (9) See section RF 12G for elections to disregard the related-party de minimis and the deferral calculation.

Example

Three years ago, NZ Sub A Ltd (A) borrowed NZ$1m from a non-resident associate (Foreign Lender Ltd). A's financial arrangement expenditure on this arrangement for each year has been $42,000, $50,000 and $53,000. For the same 3-year period, A has paid interest of $19,000, $20,000 and $21,000. At the end of the second year, the deferral calculation is $($19,000 + $20,000) \div $42,000 = 92.9\%$, so no NRFAI arises. However, at the end of the third year the deferral calculation is $($19,000 + $20,000 + $21,000) \div ($42,000 + $50,000) = 65.2\%$. As this is below 90%, NRFAI arises for the first time in the third year. The NRFAI will be treated as paid under section RF 12E on the last day of the second month after A's balance date.

RF 12B Interest derived jointly with residents

When payment derived jointly with resident

- (1) If a person makes a payment of non-resident passive income that consists of interest derived by 2 or more persons jointly and at least 1 person deriving the interest is a New Zealand resident, the amount of tax for the payment is calculated using the formula—

$(\text{tax rate} \times (\text{interest paid} + \text{foreign withholding tax})) - \text{foreign withholding tax}.$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) tax rate is the basic rate set out in schedule 1, part D, clause 3 or 4 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits):
- (b) interest paid is the amount of interest paid before the amount of tax is determined:

- (c) foreign withholding tax is the amount of foreign withholding tax paid or payable on the amount of interest paid.

Treatment as filing taxpayer

- (3) For the purposes of this section, the New Zealand resident referred to in subsection (1) is treated as a filing taxpayer.

Defined in this Act: amount, amount of tax, filing taxpayer, foreign withholding tax, interest, New Zealand resident, non-resident passive income, pay

- (2) The rate of NRWT payable on the amount is 0%.

Defined in this Act: amount, apply, company, life insurer, New Zealand, non-resident passive income, NRWT, pay, resident in New Zealand

Compare: 2004 No 35 s NG 2(1)(b)(iii)

Section RF 12C: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 536(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section RF 12C list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Certain financial arrangements involving related-party debt

Heading: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 279 (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

RF 12D Determining amount of non-resident financial arrangement income

Amount of income

- (1) The amount of non-resident financial arrangement income derived by a lender in an income year is an amount equal to the expenditure incurred in the income year on the related-party debt by the borrower.

Applying general rule

- (2) Subsections (3), (4), (5), (6), and (7) apply for the purposes of subsection (1) and sections RF 2B, RF 2C, RF 12E to RF 12J, and RZ 13 (Treatment of pre-payments).

Expenditure

- (3) Expenditure excludes an amount that may be an expense of the borrower under the arrangement but is not, and will not be, an amount received by the lender.

Spreading method

- (4) For financial arrangements involving related-party debt, the spreading method that must be applied in determining the amount incurred is the method used by the borrower for the financial arrangement under subpart EW (Financial arrangements rules) excluding the following methods for which another spreading method must be substituted:
- (a) the fair value method:
 - (b) the market valuation method under section EW 18 (Market valuation method).

Foreign exchange movements

- (5) The calculation of total interest and total expenditure must be made in the currency of the financial arrangement.

When lender's income zero

- (6) In the calculation of non-resident financial arrangement income, if the borrower has income on the related-party debt, the amount derived by the lender is treated as zero.

Part years

- (7) For the purposes of subsection (1), a reference to an income year includes a reference to a part of an income year.

Example

NZ Sub B Ltd (B) has borrowed US$100m from its non-resident parent and will repay US$125m in 5 years' time. Calculated in US dollars, the financial arrangement expenditure for each year is US$4m, US$4.5m, US$5m, US$5.5m, and US$6m respectively. B must calculate NRFAI in US dollars for each year then, for the purposes of paying NRWT, convert this into NZ dollars using the currency conversion in subpart YF (Currency conversion). B has also entered into a hedge to buy US$125m in 5 years' time for NZ$200m. Because the hedge does not give rise to interest or NRFAI, income or expenditure relating to the hedge is excluded from B's NRWT calculations.

Defined in this Act: amount, expenditure, fair value method, financial arrangement, income, income year, non-resident financial arrangement income, related-party debt, spreading method

Section RF 12D: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 279 (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

RF 12E When non-resident financial arrangement income treated as paid*Amount paid*

- (1) An amount of non-resident financial arrangement income is treated as paid on the last day of the second month following the end of the borrower's income year.

When debt matures, ends, or no longer qualifies

- (2) Despite subsection (1), if a related-party debt matures, ends, or no longer qualifies as a related-party debt during the borrower's income year, the non-resident financial arrangement income is treated as paid on the last day of the second month following the relevant event.

Defined in this Act: amount, income year, non-resident financial arrangement income, pay, related-party debt

Section RF 12E: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 279 (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

RF 12F Adjustments: first year additional amounts*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the first income year in which a lender derives non-resident financial arrangement income under a financial arrangement. It increases the lender's income by adding an amount that the lender would have derived if the financial arrangement had always given rise to non-resident financial arrangement income.

Formula

- (2) The amount is calculated using the formula—
$$\text{total accrual income} - \text{total interest}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) total accrual income is the total expenditure incurred by the borrower under the arrangement to the extent to which the arrangement is held by a non-resident person for the period that—
- (i) starts on the date on which the borrower became party to the arrangement; and
 - (ii) ends on the last day of the income year that precedes the first income year:
- (b) total interest is the total interest paid by the borrower to all non-residents for the period that—
- (i) starts on the date on which the borrower became party to the arrangement; and
 - (ii) ends on the NRFAI due date for the borrower's income year.

Example continued from section RF 2C

Foreign Lender Ltd has derived NRFAI for the first time in the third year of a loan to NZ Sub A Ltd (A). The NRFAI derived for this year is equal to A's financial arrangement expenditure for the third year of $53,000. However, as this year is the first in which Foreign Lender Ltd has derived NRFAI on this related-party debt, it also derives an additional amount of $($42,000 + $50,000) - ($19,000 + $20,000 + $21,000) = $32,000$.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, income, income year, interest, non-resident, non-resident financial arrangement income, NRFAI due date, NRWT, pay, related-party debt

Section RF 12F: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 279 (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

RF 12G Choosing to treat income as non-resident financial arrangement income

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the first income year in which the borrower is party to a financial arrangement described in section RF 2C(1)(b).

Elections related to de minimis

- (2) The borrower may choose to disregard the application of the related-party de minimis referred to in section RF 2C(3).

Elections related to deferral calculation

- (3) Despite section RF 2C(4), if the result of the deferral calculation by the borrower is, or is treated as, more than 90%, they may choose to disregard the application of the calculation for an arrangement—
 - (a) that is for a period of more than 12 months; and
 - (b) in relation to which they reasonably expect non-resident financial arrangement income will arise for a later income year.

Making elections

- (4) The election must be made by notifying the Commissioner by the earlier of—
 - (a) the first day on which interest described in section RF 2(1)(d) is paid;
 - (b) the last day of the income year in which the arrangement becomes a related-party debt.

Example

NZ Sub C Ltd (C) has borrowed $500,000 from its non-resident parent. Although interest accrues on this loan, C does not expect to make any interest payments for some years. C has also borrowed from a bank but has no other related-party loans. C's expected financial arrangement expenditure on the related-party debt for the first 3 years is $32,000, $36,000 and $41,000. C will not have to calculate whether NRFAI arises until the end of the third year as this is when the related party de minimis is reached. However, C expects that once the related party de minimis is reached, NRFAI will arise because there are expected to be no interest payments. Therefore, C notifies Inland Revenue during the first year, that it will withhold NRWT on NRFAI from the start of the first year.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, financial arrangement, income year, inform, interest, non-resident financial arrangement income, notify, related-party debt

Section RF 12G: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 279 (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

RF 12H Meaning of related-party debt

Meaning of related-party debt

- (1) Related-party debt means a financial arrangement under which—
- (a) a person (the lender) is party to an arrangement that provides funds to another person (the borrower) when—
 - (i) the lender and borrower are associated persons; or
 - (ii) the funding is provided through an indirect associated funding arrangement, as described in section RF 12I(2); or
 - (iii) the lender is a member of a non-resident owning body that is associated with the borrower, as described in section RF 12I(3); and
 - (b) expenditure arises for the borrower for which they are allowed a deduction.

New Zealand banking group exclusion

- (2) Subsection (1), other than paragraph (a)(ii), does not apply to a financial arrangement to which a member of a New Zealand banking group as determined under section FE 33 (New Zealand banking group) is party.

Associated persons

- (3) When subsection (1)(a)(iii) applies, the borrower and the member of the non-resident owning body are treated as if they were associated for the purposes of this section, and sections RF 2C, RF 12, RF 12D to RF 12G, RF 12I, and RF 12J and section 32M of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, deduction, financial arrangement, income year, New Zealand banking group, non-resident owning body, related-party debt

Section RF 12H: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 279 (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

RF 12I Concepts used for definition of related-party debt

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section RF 12H to describe what is meant by indirect associated funding arrangements and funding through non-resident owning bodies.

Indirect associated funding arrangements

- (2) An indirect associated funding arrangement exists when—

- (a) a non-resident person (the indirect lender) provides funds or pays money, directly or indirectly, to another person (the direct lender) who provides funds to a third person (the borrower)—
 - (i) in order for the funds to be provided to the borrower, or to reimburse the direct lender or compensate them, for providing the funds to the borrower; and
 - (ii) with the purpose or effect that the borrower incurs financial arrangement expenditure and the indirect lender does not derive non-resident passive income from the borrower; and
- (b) the indirect lender is associated with the borrower; and
- (c) the funding does not meet the requirements of section RF 12H(1)(a)(i) and (iii) for related-party debt.

Non-resident owning bodies

- (3) A non-resident owning body is treated as associated with a borrower when the ownership interest, within the meaning set out in paragraph (a) of the definition of that term, in the borrower of all the members of the non-resident owning body is 50% or more.

Examples

NZ Sub D Ltd (D) borrows $1m at an interest rate of 6% from 3rd Party Finance Co Ltd (Finance Co) which agrees to provide this amount because D International, a non-resident associate of D, agrees to lend $800,000 at an interest rate of 4% to Finance Co. This is treated as a loan of $800,000 from D International to D, and a loan of $200,000 from Finance Co to D. D makes an interest payment of $60,000 to Finance Co, and Finance Co makes an interest payment of $32,000 to D International. D is treated as making an interest payment of $32,000 to Finance Co as agent for D International, so must withhold $3,200 NRWT. If D does not, Finance Co will be required to do so.

Two unrelated foreign investors agree to purchase 40% each of a New Zealand company with the remaining 20% held by a New Zealand investor. The New Zealand company has borrowed $1m, with the amounts being $400,000 from each of the foreign investors and $200,000 from the New Zealand investor and all borrowing is on similar terms. The 2 foreign investors are members of a non-resident owning body as they are acting together as if they were a single entity. Neither foreign investor is associated with the New Zealand business, either individually or as a consequence of being a member of the non-resident owning body. However, because they are members of the non-resident owning body, interest payments derived by the foreign investors will be ineligible for AIL and the loans may give rise to non-resident financial arrangement income.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, interest, non-resident, non-resident owning body, non-resident passive income, ownership interest, pay, related-party debt

Section RF 12I: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 279 (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

RF 12J Treatment of certain payments made under indirect associated funding arrangements*Payments made under funding arrangements*

- (1) The payment made under an indirect associated funding arrangement described in section RF 12I(2), to the extent to which subsection (2) applies, is treated as made under a financial arrangement between the borrower and the indirect lender, and not made under a financial arrangement between the borrower and the direct lender.

Treatment of payments

- (2) Under this subsection,—
- (a) an amount that the indirect lender pays to the direct lender is treated as paid by the indirect lender to the borrower to the extent to which the amount is not more than the amount paid by the direct lender to the borrower;
 - (b) an amount that the borrower pays to the direct lender is treated as paid to the direct lender as agent for the indirect lender to the extent to which the amount is not more than the amount paid by the direct lender to the indirect lender.

When amounts of tax not withheld

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(b), if the borrower does not withhold the full amount required to be withheld under sections RA 6 (Withholding and payment obligations for passive income) and RF 3, the direct lender must withhold NRWT on interest paid to them.

No liability for direct lender

- (4) Despite subsection (3), the direct lender has no liability to withhold an amount of tax for the payment if the borrower has notified the direct lender that—
- (a) the payment is not made under an indirect associated funding arrangement;
 - (b) non-resident financial arrangement income has been derived on the financial arrangement.

Determining interest paid and effect of reduction

- (5) For the purposes of subsection (3),—
- (a) paragraph (d) of the definition of pay does not apply;
 - (b) for the financial arrangement, a reduction for the direct lender through the application of subsection (4) and paragraph (a) has no effect on the amount of NRWT that must be withheld on behalf of the indirect lender.

Defined in this Act: amount, amount of tax, associated person, financial arrangement, income tax liability, interest, notify, NRWT, pay

Section RF 12J: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 279 (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Paying amounts of tax

RF 13 Basis for payment of amounts of tax for non-resident passive income

Two instalments

- (2) The person may pay to the Commissioner the amount withheld for the tax year in 2 instalments.

When threshold reached during tax year

- (3) If the threshold amount of $500 is reached at a time in a tax year, the person must pay to the Commissioner—
 - (a) the amount of tax withheld from the start of the tax year to the end of the month in which the threshold is reached; and
 - (b) for the remainder of the tax year, the amount of tax on a monthly basis.

RF 15 Commissioner's power to vary amounts of tax

- (1) For the purposes of meeting the special circumstances of a case or class of cases, the Commissioner may—
 - (a) relieve a person from an obligation to withhold NRWT under section RA 6(2) (Withholding and payment obligations for passive income), RF 3, RF 4, or RF 10; or

Exclusion for certain payments of interest

- (2) This section does not apply to an amount of tax for a payment of interest derived jointly with a person resident in New Zealand as described in section RF 12(1).

NRWT rules apply as if amended

- (3) On the exercise of a power under subsection (1), the NRWT rules apply in the particular case as if they were amended in the way in which the power is exercised.

Defined in this Act: amount of tax, Commissioner, interest, NRWT, NRWT rules, pay, resident in New Zealand

Compare: 2004 No 35 s NG 10

RF 16 Relationship with RSCT rules*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a retirement scheme contributor makes a retirement scheme contribution for a person who is non-resident and pays RSCT for the contribution.

NRWT

- (2) The contributor is treated as having withheld from the contribution an amount of NRWT equal to the lesser of—
- (a) the amount of RSCT paid;

RL 1 Residential land withholding tax

What this subpart does

- (1) This subpart imposes an obligation to pay a tax called residential land withholding tax (RLWT).

When this subpart applies

- (2) This subpart applies for a residential land purchase amount in relation to a disposal of residential land located in New Zealand by a person (the vendor) to another person (the purchaser) if—

- (a) the relevant residential land purchase amount would be income of the vendor under section CB 6A or CZ 39 (which relate to the bright-line test for residential land) ignoring sections CB 6A(13), CB 16A, CZ 39(8), and CZ 40 (which relate to the bright-line test); and
- (b) the vendor is an offshore RLWT person.

How this subpart applies to joint owners

- (3) For the purposes of this subpart, vendors who are co-owners are treated as disposing of separate residential land on the basis of an appropriate split of the underlying residential land and the consideration for its disposal.

When this subpart does not apply

- (4) This subpart does not apply if the vendor holds an RLWT certificate of exemption that applies for the disposal of the relevant residential land. Section 54E of the Tax Administration Act 1994 provides for the issue of RLWT certificates of exemption to vendors.

When this subpart does not apply: relationship property

- (4B) This subpart does not apply if section FB 3A(2) (Residential land) applies for the disposal of the relevant residential land.

Specific rules

- (5) In this subpart,—
 - (a) section RL 2 provides rules for vendors and conveyancers in relation to who must pay RLWT and satisfy RLWT liability:
 - (b) section RL 3 provides rules for purchasers in relation to who must withhold RLWT from relevant residential land purchase amounts. It also provides rules for segregating the RLWT withheld:
 - (c) section RL 4 provides rules for calculating how much tax must be paid or withheld and paid for residential land purchase amounts:
 - (d) section RL 5 provides rules for paying RLWT:
 - (e) section RL 6 provides rules for the Commissioner repaying RLWT.

Return and information provisions in Tax Administration Act 1994

Conveyancers: agency for RLWT obligations

- (2) The vendor's conveyancer, or if the vendor does not have a conveyancer, the purchaser's conveyancer, is treated as the agent (the paying agent) of the vendor in relation to the RLWT, and, in relation to the RLWT, must provide returns and satisfy the vendor's liability.

Conveyancers: no agency for other obligations

- (3) The paying agent is not treated as the vendor's agent for income, or for a tax obligation other than RLWT, solely because of their agency in relation to RLWT.

Conveyancers: relationship with subject matter

- (4) Sections HD 2, HD 3, and HD 4 (which relate to agents) do not apply to a paying agent that is agent only in relation to RLWT.

Liability of conveyancers

- (5) The paying agent, as agent in relation to the RLWT, is not jointly and severally liable in relation to the vendor's RLWT or in relation to a debt under section RA 10 (When obligations not met). The vendor alone is liable to pay the RLWT, despite the paying agent's obligation to satisfy the vendor's liability.

Liability of conveyancers: exception for penalties

- (6) Despite subsection (5), if the paying agent fails to satisfy the vendor's liability, then,—
- (a) for the purposes of Part 9 of the Tax Administration Act 1994, the paying agent is treated as failing to pay an amount of withholding tax equal to the amount of RLWT liability they failed to satisfy, if the paying agent has subtracted or retained an amount from a residential land purchase amount; or
 - (b) for the purposes of Part 9 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 other than section 139B, the paying agent is treated as failing to pay an amount of withholding tax equal to the amount of RLWT liability they failed to satisfy, if the paying agent has not subtracted or retained an amount from a residential land purchase amount.

Liability of conveyancers: reasonable reliance

- (7) A paying agent is not liable for a penalty under Part 9 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 for a failure described in subsection (6)(b) if, for that failure,—

- (a) the paying agent has relied on a form and accompanying documents given to them in accordance with section 54C of the Tax Administration Act 1994; and
- (b) the paying agent's reliance on the form and accompanying documents is reasonable.

Treatment of amount

- (8) An amount subtracted or retained from a residential land purchase amount by a paying agent to satisfy the vendor's RLWT liability—
 - (a) is treated as received—
 - (i) by the vendor; and
 - (ii) at the time the residential land purchase amount is paid to them; and
 - (b) is treated for the purposes of this Act as derived by the vendor at the same time and in the same way as they derive the residential land purchase amount.

- (1) This section applies when a tax pooling intermediary makes a request (the original request) to the Commissioner for a person under section RP 17B(5) or (6) (Tax pooling accounts and their use) after 2 July 2014 and before the date on which the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 receives the Royal assent.

Amendment request

- (2) The tax pooling intermediary, if authorised by the person, may make a request (the amendment request) to the Commissioner for the original request to be amended by adjusting the amount included to pay interest under Part 7 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Permitted changes

- (3) The amendments to the original request are limited to changes in—

 - (b) the details required by section RP 19(4)(b).

Maximum amount unchanged

- (4) The original request as amended must not request the transfer of an amount exceeding the maximum amount specified in section RP 17B(7).

Time limit for amendment request

- (5) The amendment request must be received by the Commissioner within 60 days from the date on which the Commissioner notifies the person of the amount of interest payable under Part 7 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Section RZ 12: inserted (with effect on 3 July 2014), on 24 February 2016, by section 234 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Heading: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 287 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

RZ 13 Treatment of prepayments*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of the NRWT rules when—
- (a) a person resident in New Zealand enters into a financial arrangement before the date on which the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 receives the Royal assent (the date of enactment); and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) no obligation to withhold NRWT has arisen in relation to the arrangement before the date of enactment; or

- (ii) approved issuer levy has been paid in relation to the arrangement before the date of enactment; and
- (c) the arrangement would be a related-party debt if sections RF 12H to RF 12J (which relate to related-party debt) had applied to the arrangement before the date of enactment; and
- (d) the person is party to the arrangement on or after the date of enactment.

When excess treated as paid

- (2) If, at the date on which section 273(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 applies in relation to the arrangement, the total interest paid under the arrangement is more than the total expenditure accrued by the person on the arrangement, the excess interest is treated as paid on that date.

Foreign exchange treatment

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2) and an arrangement that is denominated in a foreign currency, the calculation of total interest and total expenditure must be made in the currency of the arrangement and the excess converted to New Zealand dollars under subpart YF (Currency conversion).

Example

On 1 April 2010, X Ltd borrowed $1m from Foreign Parent Ltd, repayable on 31 March 2025. Foreign Parent also has a New Zealand branch. On 31 March each year from 2011 to 2016, X makes an interest payment of $60,000 to Foreign Parent. As Foreign Parent has a New Zealand branch, these interest payments are not non-resident passive income, so no NRWT is required to be withheld. Once the amendments to section RF 2(1)(d) are enacted, any interest payments by X to Foreign Parent will be non-resident passive income. On 30 September 2016, X makes a one-off interest payment of $400,000 and agrees with Foreign Parent that no further interest will be paid. X calculates that $35,000 of this payment covers the period from 1 April 2016 to the date on which the amendments to section RF 2(1)(d) are enacted. The remaining $365,000 is treated as a prepayment that is paid on the date of enactment, so X is required to withhold NRWT of $36,500.

Defined in this Act: amount, approved issuer, financial arrangement, income year, interest, NRWT, NRWT rules, pay, related-party debt, resident in New Zealand

 - (d) after the expiry of the 4-year period, the refund could not be made under section RM 2 as it was before it was amended by section 87(1) of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013.

YC 18B Corporate reorganisations not affecting economic ownership

When subsection (3) applies

- (1) Subsection (3) applies if a company (the initial parent) enters into an arrangement described in subsection (2).

Description of arrangement

- (2) The description of the arrangement for the purposes of subsection (1) is as follows:
- (a) the initial parent is a limited attribution company that is treated under section YC 11(3) and (4) as holding ownership interests (the included ownership interests) that are not excluded preference shares in another company before the arrangement is entered into; and
 - (b) the ownership of the initial parent is reorganised so that another company (the new parent) is a limited attribution company that is treated under section YC 11(3) and (4) as holding included ownership interests in the initial parent after the arrangement is implemented; and

- (c) the percentage included ownership interests (the final percentage) that a person receives in the new parent is the same as their percentage included ownership interests (the initial percentage) in the initial parent that they cease to hold as a result of the arrangement. For the purposes of this paragraph, a difference between the initial and final percentages is ignored if the difference is caused by a transfer or non-transfer of included ownership interests that—
 - (i) facilitates the arrangement, and the relevant included ownership interests have a market value that is merely nominal relative to the value of the included ownership interests in the new parent;
 - (ii) is the direct result of impossibility or impracticability caused by securities law requirements; and
- (d) a person holding included ownership interests in the initial parent before the arrangement is entered into does not receive a dividend, gift, or other direct benefit as a result of the arrangement. For the purposes of this paragraph,—
 - (i) included ownership interests in the initial parent for which paragraph (c)(ii) applies are excluded from a person's holding of included ownership interests;
 - (ii) included ownership interests in the new parent are excluded from being a dividend, gift, or other direct benefit.

Loss balance and credit account continuity

- (3) For the purposes of the tests of ownership and control in Part I and subparts LP, OA, OB, OC, and OP (which relate to loss balances, tax credits, and memorandum accounts), starting from when the initial parent is first treated under section YC 11(3) and (4) as holding the included ownership interests in another company, the new parent is treated as—
 - (a) existing and having the shareholders it has immediately after the arrangement's implementation;
 - (b) holding the included ownership interests that the initial parent is treated under section YC 11(3) and (4) as holding;
 - (c) holding all included ownership interests in the initial parent.

Effect of subsection (3)

- (4) Subsection (3) does not prevent a change in shareholders, the holdings of included ownership interests, or other circumstances, after the implementation of the arrangement from having an effect on the application of the continuity provisions and the provisions described in subsection (3) after the implementation of the arrangement.

YD 4B Meaning of permanent establishment

What this section does

- (1) This section gives the meaning of permanent establishment for a person or other enterprise (the enterprise) that makes in New Zealand a supply of goods or services.

Double tax agreement with applicable definition

- (2) Permanent establishment, for an enterprise that is resident in a country or territory with which New Zealand has a double tax agreement that includes a definition of permanent establishment, has the meaning given by—
- (a) the double tax agreement:
 - (b) section GB 54 (Arrangements involving establishments), if the enterprise meets the requirements of the section.

No double tax agreement with applicable definition

- (3) Permanent establishment, for an enterprise that is resident in New Zealand or in a country or territory with which New Zealand does not have a double tax agreement that includes a definition of permanent establishment, has the meaning given by schedule 23 (Meaning of permanent establishment).

Interpretation of schedule 23

- (4) Schedule 23 is treated as applying consistently with the guidance relevant to the schedule that is provided by the Commentary on Article 5 of the Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital, in Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital published by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, as amended at the beginning of the income year in which the enterprise makes the supply.

Defined in this Act: business, double tax agreement, goods, New Zealand, non-resident, permanent establishment, resident in New Zealand, services

YD 5 Apportionment of income derived partly in New Zealand

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person carries on business partly in New Zealand and partly outside New Zealand; or
 - (b) a contract is made in New Zealand and is performed, in whole or in part, by a person outside New Zealand; or
 - (c) a contract is made outside New Zealand and is performed, in whole or in part, by a person in New Zealand; or
 - (d) interest or a redemption payment is derived from money lent outside New Zealand to a New Zealand resident (the borrower) for the purposes of a business they carry on outside New Zealand through a fixed establishment outside New Zealand and through which the borrower lends money to another New Zealand resident.

Exception when permanent establishment

- (1BA) This section does not apply to business activities that a person carries on through a permanent establishment in New Zealand.

Relationship with source rules

- (1B) This section does not apply to limit the effect of—
- (a) any of the source rules in section YD 4 other than those in section YD 4(2), (3), and (11)(b)(i); or
 - (b) the source rules in section YD 4(2), (3), and (11)(b)(i) to the extent to which the income referred to is also income referred to in any source rule other than those in section YD 4(2), (3), and (11)(b)(i).

Apportionment

- (2) Subject to subsection (4), the amount of income derived from the business or under the contract, and the amount of expenditure incurred in deriving the income, must be apportioned between New Zealand and sources outside New Zealand to the extent necessary to achieve the result in subsection (3).

Necessary effect of apportionment

- (3) The result of the apportionment, to the extent consistent with subsection (2), must be that the person's net income or net loss, in relation to the business or contract, is the same as a separate and independent person would have if they were carrying out only the person's activities in New Zealand and dealing at arm's length.

First formula: Apportionment of income from interest or redemption payment

- (4) Subject to subsections (6) and (7), interest or a redemption payment derived as described in subsection (1)(d) is apportioned to a source in New Zealand using the formula—

$$\text{loan ratio} \times \text{amount}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) In the formula in subsection (4),—
- (a) loan ratio is calculated by applying the formula in subsection (8) to the business described in subsection (1)(d):
 - (b) amount is the amount of interest or redemption payment described in subsection (1)(d).

Apportionment if loan ratio 0.05 or less

- (6) If the loan ratio calculated by applying the formula in subsection (8) to a business is 0.05 or less, then none of the interest or redemption payment is treated as having a source in New Zealand.

Apportionment if loan ratio 0.95 or more

- (7) If the loan ratio calculated by applying the formula in subsection (8) to a business is 0.95 or more, then all of the interest or redemption payment is treated as having a source in New Zealand.

Second formula: loan ratio

- (8) The item loan ratio in subsection (4) is calculated using the formula—
financial arrangements producing New Zealand income ÷ total assets.

Definition of items in formula

- (9) In the formula in subsection (8),—
- (a) financial arrangements producing New Zealand income, for a business, means the value of the business's assets that are financial arrangements that produce income having a source in New Zealand as at—
- (i) the borrower's balance date that immediately precedes the income year; if the borrower has a balance date before the start of the income year; or
 - (ii) the end of the day before the date on which the interest or redemption payment is paid, if subparagraph (i) does not apply:
- (b) total assets, for a business, means the value of all of the business's assets as at—
- (i) the borrower's balance date that immediately precedes the income year, if the borrower has a balance date before the start of the income year; or
 - (ii) the end of the day before the date on which the interest or redemption payment is paid, if subparagraph (i) does not apply.

Example

At its balance date of 31 March 2018, NZ Sub UK Branch has total borrowings from the wholesale markets of NZ$2b. NZ$1.5b has been lent to NZ Bank Ltd at 4% p.a., NZ$500m lent to a UK resident at 12% p.a. and there are no other assets. On 31 October 2018, the UK resident repays its loan and NZ Sub UK Branch uses the amount to repay the wholesale market lenders. On 31 January 2019, NZ Sub UK Branch pays interest of NZ$60m. NZ Sub UK Branch calculates the loan ratio in section YD 5(8) as $\text{NZ$1.5b} \div \text{NZ$2b} = 0.75$. NZ Sub UK Branch calculates the apportionment of income from interest in section YD 5(4) as: $0.75 \times \text{NZ$60m} = \text{NZ$45m}$. Therefore, NZ$45m of the interest payment on 31 January 2019 has a New Zealand source, so NZ Sub UK Branch pays AIL of $900,000 which is included in its AIL return for January 2019.

Defined in this Act: amount, business, gross, financial arrangement, fixed establishment, income, income year, interest, loan, money lent, net loss, New Zealand, New Zealand resident, pay, redemption payment, source in New Zealand

ZA 3 Transitional provisions

When reference to this Act includes earlier Act

- (1) A reference in an enactment or document to this Act, or to a provision of it, is to be interpreted as a reference to the Income Tax Act 2004, or the Income Tax Act 1994, or the Income Tax Act 1976, or to the corresponding provision of the earlier Act, to the extent necessary to reflect sensibly the intent of the enactment or document.

When reference to earlier Act includes this Act

- (2) A reference in an enactment or document to the Income Tax Act 2004, or the Income Tax Act 1994, or the Income Tax Act 1976, or to a provision of that earlier Act, is to be interpreted as a reference to this Act, or to the corresponding provision in this Act, to the extent necessary to reflect sensibly the intent of the enactment or document.

Intention of new law

- (3) The provisions of this Act, including any amendments made by this Act to the Tax Administration Act 1994, are the provisions of the Income Tax Act 2004 in rewritten form, and are intended to have the same effect as the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Act 2004. Subsection (5) overrides this subsection.

Using old law as interpretation guide

- (4) Unless a limit in subsection (5) applies, in circumstances where the meaning of a taxation law that comes into force at the commencement of this Act (the new law) is unclear or gives rise to absurdity—
- (a) the wording of a taxation law that is repealed by section ZA 1 and that corresponds to the new law (the old law) must be used to determine the correct meaning of the new law; and
 - (b) it can be assumed that a corresponding old law provision exists for each new law provision.

Limits to subsections (3) and (4)

- (5) Subsections (3) and (4) do not apply in the case of—
- (a) a new law listed in schedule 51 (Identified changes in legislation); or
 - (b) a new law that is amended after the commencement of this Act, with effect from the date on which the amendment comes into force.

Defined in this Act: taxation law

- (1) This section applies when, and to the extent to which,—
- (a) either—
 - (i) an applicant has applied for a private ruling, a product ruling, or a status ruling, before the beginning of the 2008–09 income year on an arrangement that is entered into, or that the applicant seriously contemplates will be entered into before the commencement of this Act; or

- (ii) a public ruling is issued before the beginning of the 2008–09 income year; and
- (b) the binding ruling is about—
 - (i) a taxation law that is repealed by section ZA 1 (the old law); or
 - (ii) a taxation law in the Income Tax Act 1994 that preceded and corresponded to the old law; and
- (c) a new taxation law that corresponds to the old law (the new law) comes into force at the commencement of this Act; and
- (d) in the absence of this section, the commencement of this Act would mean that the binding ruling would cease to apply because of section 91G of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Ruling about new law

- (2) The binding ruling is treated as if it were made about the new law, so that the effect of the ruling at the commencement of this Act is the same as its effect before the commencement.

No confirmation rulings

- (3) To the extent to which a binding ruling continued by subsection (2) exists and applies to an arrangement, or to a person and an arrangement, the Commissioner must not make a binding ruling on how—
 - (a) the new law applies to the arrangement or to the person and the arrangement; or
 - (b) this subsection applies to the arrangement or to the person and the arrangement.

Defined in this Act: apply, arrangement, binding ruling, commencement of this Act, Commissioner, taxation law

 - (c) the determination is about—

- (i) a taxation law that is repealed by section ZA 1 (the old law); or

- (d) a new taxation law that corresponds to the old law (the new law) comes into force at the commencement of this Act; and
- (e) in the absence of this section, the commencement of this Act would mean that that determination would cease to apply because the taxation law to which it applied had ceased to exist.

Determination about new law

- (2) The determination is treated as if it were made about the new law, so that the effect of the determination at the commencement of this Act is the same as its effect before the commencement.

No confirmation determinations

- (3) To the extent to which a determination continued by subsection (2) applies, the Commissioner must not make a determination on how the new law applies.

Defined in this Act: commencement of this Act, Commissioner, taxation law

Schedule 5

Fringe benefit values for motor vehicles

ss GB 31, RD 28, RD 29, RD 56, RD 57

- 1 The following paragraphs apply to determine the value of the benefit that an employee has for a quarter, tax year, or income year when section RD 60 applies, if in the quarter, tax year, or income year, a motor vehicle is provided by a person for the private use of an employee, or is made available for their private use:
 - (a) if the vehicle is owned by the person, jointly or otherwise,—
 - (i) on the basis of the cost price of the vehicle to the person: for a quarter, 5% of the cost price, and for a tax year or income year, 20% of the cost price:
 - (ii) subject to clause 10, on the basis of the tax value of the vehicle to the person: for a quarter, 9% of the tax value, and for a tax year or income year, 36% of the tax value:
 - (b) if the vehicle is leased or rented by the person from another person, whether they are associated or not,—
 - (i) on the basis of the cost price of the vehicle to its owner at the time the benefit is provided to the employee: for a quarter, 5% of the cost price, and for a tax year or income year, 20% of the cost price:
 - (ii) subject to clause 10, on the basis of the tax value of the vehicle to its owner at the time the benefit is provided to the employee: for a quarter, 9% of the tax value, and for a tax year or income year, 36% of the tax value.
- 2 If a motor vehicle to which this schedule applies is 1 of a number of motor vehicles, each of which is available for private use as described in clause 1, the value of the benefit is determined as follows:
 - (a) if the employee mainly uses the same vehicle, clause 1 applies to that vehicle:
 - (b) if paragraph (a) does not apply, and the employee is employed in a business engaged in the selling of motor vehicles, and the vehicles available for use are trading stock of the business, clause 1 applies to the quotient obtained by dividing the sum of either the cost price of the vehicles or their tax value, by the total number of those vehicles:
 - (c) if paragraphs (a) and (b) do not apply, clause 1 applies to the highest value of any vehicle used by the employee.
- 3 In this schedule, a motor vehicle's tax value in a quarter, tax year, or income year is—

- (a) the value of the vehicle as determined under subpart EE for the beginning of the tax year or income year, if paragraphs (b) and (c) do not apply; or
- (b) the cost price of the vehicle, if the vehicle is acquired after the beginning of the tax year or income year, and paragraph (c) does not apply; or
- (c) determined under clause 4 if, in the period of 2 years before the vehicle's acquisition by the person (person A) providing it to the employee, the vehicle is owned by person A or by a person (person B) associated with them.

Schedule 5 clause 3(a): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 29 August 2011 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 140(1) of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

Schedule 5 clause 3(c): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 580(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

- 4 For the purposes of clause 3(c), the tax value of the vehicle is the value it would have under subpart EE at the beginning of the tax year or income year, or at the time of acquisition in the year, treating the cost of the vehicle on acquisition as the amount determined under—
- (a) clause 5, if—
 - (i) the cost price was last used by person A or person B for the vehicle under clause 1:
 - (ii) clause 1 did not apply to the vehicle in the 2-year period referred to in clause 3(c) and neither person A nor person B has used the tax value for the vehicle under clause 1:
 - (b) clause 6, if person A did not own the vehicle and person B last used the tax value of the vehicle under clause 1:
 - (c) clause 7, if person A owned the vehicle and the tax value was last used for the vehicle under clause 1.
- 5 The highest of the following amounts is the relevant amount for clause 4(a):
- (a) the highest cost of the vehicle to person A on an acquisition of it by them:
 - (b) the highest cost of the vehicle to person B on an acquisition of it by them.
- 6 The highest of the following amounts is the relevant amount for clause 4(b):
- (a) the tax value of the vehicle under this schedule for person B, immediately before the last disposal of the vehicle by them:
 - (b) the cost of the vehicle to person A on acquisition.
- 7 The highest of the following amounts is the relevant amount for clause 4(c):

- (a) the tax value of the vehicle under this schedule for whichever of person A or person B last used tax value for the vehicle under clause 1, immediately before the last disposal of the vehicle by that person:
 - (b) the cost of the vehicle to person A on the last acquisition of it by them.
- 8 To determine the value of a benefit under clause 1—
 - (a) any GST paid on the acquisition of a vehicle by the owner or lessor of the vehicle is—
 - (i) included in the cost price of the motor vehicle or in the calculation of the motor vehicle's tax value:
 - (ii) not reduced by an amount of input tax on the supply of the vehicle to the owner or lessor:
 - (b) if, in the period of 2 years before the vehicle's acquisition by the person providing it to the employee, the vehicle is owned by the person or by someone associated with them, the cost price is treated as being the highest one of the cost prices paid for the vehicle by the person or an associate since its manufacture:
 - (c) subject to paragraph (b), the cost price of the vehicle is treated as being equal to the vehicle's market value if,—
 - (i) the cost to the person who acquires the vehicle is zero; or
 - (ii) the cost price is unable to be established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner by the person who acquires the vehicle; or
 - (iii) at the time the vehicle is acquired, the cost price to the person who acquires the vehicle is less than the market value because of an arrangement between that person and an associated person, and that arrangement has the purpose of defeating the intent and application of the FBT rules.
- 9 Despite clause 8(a), a person who in a quarter, tax year, or income year provides a benefit that is valued under clause 1 may choose to value the vehicle on the basis of its cost price exclusive of GST or its tax value calculated exclusive of GST using clause 1 as modified by clause 10.
- 10 The following paragraphs apply to a person who values a vehicle on the basis of its cost price exclusive of GST or its tax value calculated exclusive of GST:
 - (a) the terms 'cost price' and 'tax value' in clause 1 do not include an amount of GST payable:
 - (b) the references to 5% in clause 1 are treated as if they were references to a percentage calculated using the formula—
$$5 + (5 \times \text{rate of GST applying on last day of relevant quarter}):$$
 - (c) the references to 9% in clause 1 are treated as if they were references to a percentage calculated using the formula—

$9 + (9 \times \text{rate of GST applying on last day of relevant quarter})$:

- (d) the references to 20% in clause 1 are treated as if they were references to a percentage calculated using the formula—

$20 + (20 \times \text{rate of GST applying on last day of relevant tax year or corresponding income year})$:

- (e) the references to 36% in clause 1 are treated as if they were references to a percentage calculated using the formula—

$36 + (36 \times \text{rate of GST applying on last day of relevant tax year or corresponding income year})$.

- 11 When a vehicle is leased or rented to the person after it has been leased or rented to another person (the other person), the cost price of a vehicle is its market value at the time it is first leased or rented to the person if—
- (a) the person is not associated with the other person; and
 - (b) the person is not associated with the lessor or owner of the vehicle; and
 - (c) the employee is not the lessor or owner of the vehicle; and
 - (d) the employee is not associated with the lessor or owner of the vehicle.
- 12 If the vehicle is leased or rented by the person from another person and the lessee requests that the lessor disclose the cost price or tax value of the vehicle for the lessor, the lessor must disclose to the lessee the information requested.
- 13 The minimum tax value of a motor vehicle to which this schedule applies is $8,333.

s YD 4B(3)

Permanent establishment

- 1 The term permanent establishment means a fixed place of business through which the business of a person or other entity (an enterprise) is wholly or partly carried on.
- 2 The term permanent establishment includes especially—
 - (a) a place of management; and
 - (b) a branch; and
 - (c) an office; and
 - (d) a factory; and
 - (e) a workshop; and
 - (f) a mine, an oil or gas well, a quarry or any other place of extraction of natural resources.
- 3 A building site, or a construction, installation or assembly project, or supervisory activities in connection with that building site or construction, installation or assembly project, constitutes a permanent establishment if it lasts more than 6 months.
- 4 An enterprise shall be deemed to have a permanent establishment in a country or territory (the State) and to carry on business through that permanent establishment if for more than 183 days in any 12-month period—
 - (a) it carries on activities in that State which consist of, or which are connected with, the exploration for or exploitation of natural resources, including standing timber, situated in that State; or
 - (b) it operates substantial equipment in that State.
- 5 Notwithstanding the provisions of clauses 1 and 2 where an enterprise of a State performs services in another State (the other State)—
 - (a) through an individual who is present in that other State for a period or periods exceeding in the aggregate 183 days in any 12-month period, and more than 50% of the gross revenues attributable to active business activities of the enterprise during this period or periods are derived from the services performed in that other State through that individual; or
 - (b) for a period or periods exceeding in the aggregate 183 days in any 12-month period, and these services are performed for the same project or for connected projects through 1 or more individuals who are present and performing such services in that other State—

the activities carried on in that other State in performing these services shall be deemed to be carried on through a permanent establishment of the enterprise situated in that other State, unless these services are limited to those mentioned in clause 7 which, if performed through a fixed place of business, would not make this fixed place of business a permanent establishment under the provisions of that clause. For the purposes of this clause, services performed by an individual on behalf of one enterprise shall not be considered to be performed by another enterprise through that individual unless that other enterprise supervises, directs or controls the manner in which these services are performed by the individual.

- 6 For the sole purpose of determining whether the time period referred to in clauses 3, 4, and 5 has been exceeded,—
- (a) where an enterprise of a State carries on activities referred to in clause 3, 4, or 5 for a period of more than 30 days and these activities are carried on during periods of time that do not last more than the period stipulated in those clauses; and
 - (b) connected activities are carried on in that other State during different periods of time, each exceeding 30 days, by 1 or more enterprises closely related to the first-mentioned enterprise.

These different periods of time shall be added to the period of time during which the first-mentioned enterprise has carried on the activities referred to in clause 3, 4, or 5.

- 7 Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this section, the term permanent establishment shall be deemed not to include—
- (a) the use of facilities solely for the purpose of storage, display, or delivery of goods or merchandise belonging to the enterprise:
 - (b) the maintenance of a stock of goods or merchandise belonging to the enterprise solely for the purpose of storage, display, or delivery:
 - (c) the maintenance of a stock of goods or merchandise belonging to the enterprise solely for the purpose of processing by another enterprise:
 - (d) the maintenance of a fixed place of business solely for the purpose of purchasing goods or merchandise or of collecting information, for the enterprise:
 - (e) the maintenance of a fixed place of business solely for the purpose of carrying on, for the enterprise, any other activity:
 - (f) the maintenance of a fixed place of business solely for any combination of activities mentioned in subclauses (a) to (e)—

Provided that such activity, or in the case of subclause (f), the overall activity of the fixed place of business, is of a preparatory or auxiliary character.

- 7.1 Clause 7 shall not apply to a fixed place of business that is used or maintained by an enterprise if the same enterprise or a closely related enterprise carries on business activities at the same place or at another place in the same State and—
- (a) that place or other place constitutes a permanent establishment for the enterprise or the closely related enterprise under the provisions of this Schedule; or
 - (b) the overall activity resulting from the combination of the activities carried on by the 2 enterprises at the same place, or by the same enterprise or closely related enterprises at the 2 places, is not of a preparatory or auxiliary character—

Provided that the business activities carried on by the 2 enterprises at the same place, or by the same enterprise or closely related enterprises at the 2 places, constitute complementary functions that are part of a cohesive business operation.

- 8 Notwithstanding the provisions of clauses 1 and 2 but subject to the provisions of clause 9, where a person is acting in a State on behalf of an enterprise and, in doing so,—
- (a) habitually concludes contracts, or habitually plays the principal role leading to the conclusion of contracts that are routinely concluded without material modification by the enterprise, and these contracts are—
 - (i) in the name of the enterprise; or
 - (ii) for the transfer of the ownership of, or for the granting of the right to use, property owned by that enterprise or that the enterprise has the right to use; or
 - (iii) for the provision of services by that enterprise; or
 - (b) manufactures or processes in a State for the enterprise goods or merchandise belonging to the enterprise,— that enterprise shall be deemed to have a permanent establishment in that State in respect of any activities which that person undertakes for the enterprise, unless the activities of such person are limited to those mentioned in clause 7 which, if exercised through a fixed place of business (other than a fixed place of business to which clause 7.1 would apply), would not make this fixed place of business a permanent establishment under the provisions of that subsection.

- 9 Clause 8 shall not apply where the person acting in a State on behalf of an enterprise of the other State carries on business in the first-mentioned State as an independent agent and acts for the enterprise in the ordinary course of that business. Where, however, a person acts exclusively or almost exclusively on behalf of 1 or more enterprises to which it is closely related, that person shall not be considered to be an independent agent within the meaning of this clause with respect to any such enterprise.

- 10 The fact that a company which is a resident of a State controls or is controlled by a company which is a resident of the other State, or which carries on business in that other State (whether through a permanent establishment or otherwise), shall not of itself constitute either company a permanent establishment of the other.
- 11 For the purposes of this clause, a person or enterprise is closely related to an enterprise if, based on all the relevant facts and circumstances, 1 has control of the other or both are under the control of the same persons or enterprises. In any case, a person or enterprise shall be considered to be closely related to an enterprise if 1 possesses directly or indirectly more than 50% of the beneficial interest in the other (or, in the case of a company, more than 50% of the aggregate vote and value of the company's shares or of the beneficial equity interest in the company) or if another person or enterprise possesses directly or indirectly more than 50% of the beneficial interest (or, in the case of a company, more than 50% of the aggregate vote and value of the company's shares or of the beneficial equity interest in the company) in the person and the enterprise or in the 2 enterprises.

Identified changes in legislation

s ZA 3(5)

Provisions in Income Tax Act 2007 or Tax Administration Act 1994 (TAA)	Change
Business-related provisions, listed in the appendix to this schedule	The tax year basis for these provisions is omitted, or changed to an income year basis.
CD 39(9)(b), (c)	A dividend payable to a shareholder by a company when the amount is applied under section CD 39(9)(a) by the shareholder against a loan from the company to the shareholder includes a dividend that is paid without any withholding of an amount of resident withholding tax or non-resident withholding tax.
FA 3(2)	An ambiguity is removed, which ensures that an amount of the dividend is treated as being derived on the sale of the shares to the extent to which it matches any trading loss of the share dealer.
FA 5(6)	The time of association is clarified as being the time at which the associated person acquires the asset.
FA 9(2) and (3)	The time of association is clarified as being the time at which the associated person acquires the asset.
FC 2 to FC 6	The transfer on death to the executor/administrator and the subsequent transfer from the executor/administrator to the estate is treated as one transfer.
GB 1	Section GB 1(3) is clarified to confirm that the amount of the dividend derived is part of the consideration for the shares.
GB 27(2)(c)	The $60,000 threshold is clarified in order to take into account all income that would be attributed under section GB 29.
GB 35(2)(d)	The ambiguity is removed in order to clarify that multiple purposes are referred to.
GB 42(2)(d)	The ambiguity is removed in order to clarify that multiple purposes are referred to.
HC 27(2)	The definition of settlor is clarified so that any transfer to a trust that increases the net assets of the trust is a settlement on the trust and any deductible payments settled on a trust are included in trustee income.

Provisions in Income Tax Act 2007 or Tax Administration Act 1994 (TAA)	Change
HC 34(2)	The date for the payment of tax on a taxable distribution from a non-complying trust is the terminal tax date of the person liable to pay that tax.
IA 4(1)	Carried forward tax losses are used first by a person, before the losses may be grouped or otherwise used.
LA 1 to LA 10	Tax credits (other than personal and family tax credits) are used for the year that corresponds to the income year in which the credits arise.
LC 9(2)	This rule relates to the housekeeper and low income tax credits (formerly termed rebates). The policy of the rule is to apportion income of an absentee between periods of the person's absence and presence in New Zealand. The apportionment set out in the bill is on a daily basis. In the interests of simplification, the bill omits from the 2004 Act corresponding rule, the formula that apportioned the income on a "weeks" basis for persons with "regular pay periods". A change in effect is anticipated, but the omission should result at most in a small difference in outcome in favour of taxpayers. The New Zealand Law Society indicated in their submission on the bill that it would be preferable to list this as an intended change.
MC 6	The reference to veteran's pension is omitted because the in-work tax credit is an incentive to return to work.
RD 36(2)	A dividend payable to a shareholder by a company when the amount is applied under section RD 36(1) by the shareholder against a loan from the company to the shareholder includes a dividend that is paid without any withholding of an amount of resident withholding tax or non-resident withholding tax.
YA 1, definition of land	The provision is simplified and structured so that the first 3 paragraphs of the rewritten definition are to apply generally for the Act. This is consistent with the objectives of plain accessible legislation and is thought highly unlikely to result in any material change in law. However, as this change in drafting could conceivably result in a change in outcome in some circumstances, the change should be identified for readers.
YA 1, definition of mortgage	The definition of mortgage was introduced at a time when mortgages were subject to tax as a subset of land tax. The drafting in the bill provides for an updated and simplified

However, as this change in drafting could conceivably result in a change in outcome in some circumstances, the change should be identified for readers.
YA 1, definition of natural resource	A definition of natural resource is inserted for the purposes of section BH 1, and the definitions of land and New Zealand.
YA 1, definition of pay	The provision is simplified and structured so it is to apply generally for the Act. This is consistent with the objectives of plain accessible legislation and is thought highly unlikely to result in any material change in law. However, as this change in drafting could conceivably result in a change in outcome in some circumstances, the change should be identified for readers.
